Assessments in the mail this week

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Ordinarily, residents receive their assessment change cards prior to the publication of the information. However, because of the changes at the County Assessment office, the mailing has been delayed.

"They should have been sent out," said Heather Marotta of the Antioch Assessor's Office. Marotta said, in the past, the cards were sent out prior to publication. "At least, they have in the past," she said.

There is a simple explanation for the delay. "Mainly, it had to do with moving," said Supervisor of Assessments Ken Larson. "We moved up two floors, from six to eight."

Larson expected to have the "blue cards" out on Monday afternoon's mail. "We had a little See TAX page A9

Trustee honored for service to community

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Village Trustee Mabel Lou Weber will be honored on Sunday for over 50 years of service as the church organist at the Antioch United Methodist Church this Sunday.

"She started when she was a junior in high school," said Barbara Goetzelman, church secretary. "We had a pipe organ then."

Weber has been a member of the church since she was a young child. She plays not only at the United Methodist Church but at other churches in the area and she is a mainstay at Strang Funeral Home in Antioch.

The day of recognition begins at 10 a.m. with a combined worship service at the church. Weber has selected the music to be played and her son, Bill Dow, along with Stu Good and Ken Smouse will be featured soloists.

In the afternoon, from 2 to 4 p.m. there will be an open house at the church. The Antioch Community Choir, directed by Ralph Brooke, is planning to sing at 3 p.m.

The festivities continue into the evening with a dinner and program at Maravelas in Fox Lake. The dinner begins at 5:30 p.m.

"We are really celebrating a life of service," Goetzelman said. "Not only service to our church."

Minor fire at Video Explosion

A minor fire at the Video Explosion video rental store caused the store to close for three days. However, the store is now open for business.

The fire started in the front north service counter area. According to the report, the cause of the fire was an accidental short in the outlet.

Witnesses said flames could be seen in the window from the outside. The Antioch Fire Department was able to extinguish the fire within three minutes.

The fire call came in at 8:40 a.m. on Oct. 20. Within one minute, firefighters were on the scene. In total, from start to finish, the fire was over in under five minutes.

"There was a lot of smoke damage," said an Antioch Fire Department member. No cost estimates are available.

"We reopened on Monday," said employee Amber Rubenstein. "We were only closed three days."

Parade route issue not settled

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Village of Antioch is still trying to find the perfect parade route for annual Thanksgiving/Christmas parade. After a lengthy discussion by board members, the trustee approved a route change subject to modification.

Initially, it was proposed to have the parade travel south on Toft, east on Lake, north on Main, and west to Orchard. The participants were to line up in the municipal parking lot.

Trustees Marvin Oldenburger and Wayne Foresta said they were worried the new route would block police department access.

"I don't think the parade is long enough to block off all the streets at the same time," said Parks Director Cheryl McCameron.

Oldenburger didn't agree with that. "But you have to shut the streets down before the parade," he said.

"We shut down Toft for three days for Taste of Antioch," opined Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. "The police get in and out then."

In the end, no final decision was made regarding the parade route. However, the date and time have been fixed.

The parade begins at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 24. The line for the parade will start at 5:30 p.m.

Skvarce elected VP of township group

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Antioch Township Trustee Claudette Skvarce has been elected vice president of the Lake County Township Officials organization. The group includes elected officials from all 18 Lake County townships.

"I am honored and thrilled," said Skvarce. "I am looking forward to bringing back new ideas for township government to Antioch."

The organization meets six times a year to discuss issues common to township government. Upcoming legislation, changing law, as well as the continuing viability of township government are discussed at meetings.

Other elected officers include President Bill Donnan of Ela Township, Recording Secretary Faith Sage of Libertyville Township, Corresponding Secretary Barbara Coppel of Deerfield, and Treasurer Sue Hanson of Lake Villa.

The 30th Annual Installation dinner was held at the Wynstone Country Club in Ela Township. George Miller, executive director of the Townships of Illinois, spoke to the assembled group.

Skvarce lives in Oakwood Knolls and has been an Antioch Township Trustee for two and a half years.

According to Skvarce, one of the more recent issues discussed at the meetings was the proposed change in the law regarding township official's raises. Skvarce said the state is preparing to pass legislation requiring township officials to approve raises six months prior to an election.

"I think that is a good idea," she said.

Fire department looks at satellite locations

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Fire Department has been looking at several locations within the district to build a satellite fire station. No concrete plans to build have been made. Instead, it is part of long-term planning by the fire district.

"I knew they were looking at sites," said Antioch Village Planner Robert Silhan.

Former Fire Chief Todd Maplethorpe confirmed the fire district was looking at various sites. "We are actively pursuing several sites in the districts," he said.

One proposed site is on the east side of the railroad tracks. With the amount of building on that end of town, there are concerns regarding trains and response time. Silhan suggested train derailments or even just a long train could delay firefighters.

Other sites under consideration include the Grass Lake area and Channel Lake. "These are just future sites," said Maplethorpe. "We are just putting out feelers now."

Some considerations for the new site include new development as well as proximity to department members who can man the station, said Maplethorpe.

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School is presenting the play "Cheaper By the Dozen." In addition, a special children's show, "The Elves and the Shoemaker" will be performed during a Saturday matinee.

"Over 50 students auditioned in September," said Director Jenny Sliker. "Of those, 26 are currently in rehearsals for the two productions."

"Cheaper By the Dozen," a comedy, is about the trials and travails of a very large family in the roaring '20s. Students performing in the matinee production will also be the tech crew for "Cheaper."

Performances of "Cheaper By the Dozen" will be held Nov. 17 and 18 at 7:30 p.m. and Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m.

"The Elves and the Shoemaker" will be presented on Saturday, Nov. 19, at 2 p.m. In addition, school students from area grade schools will be invited to a school day show on Friday Nov. 17.

"There is always a good response to these invitations," said Sliker. "The students usually get a full house to play to on that day."

Admission prices for "Cheaper" are $3 for adults, and $2 for students and senior citizens. The Saturday matinee will be $2 for all.

Leading roles in "Cheaper" include Walter Martens, Lauren Haas, Anthony Tournis, Heather Cramond, Marlen Rodriguez and Ann Weiler.

Dist. 117 Candidate Night announced

Dr. Dennis Hockney, superintendent of Antioch Community High School Dist. 117, and Pam Podstawa, a member of Sequoit Pride, the community support group for Antioch Community High School, announced that Sequoit Pride was sponsoring a Board of Education Candidate Night on Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Antioch Community High School.

Podstawa said that the Candidates Night would provide an opportunity for members of the community to get to know the candidates for the Dist. 117 Board of Education. The format for the evening will include a statement by each candidate explaining why they are running for the Dist. 117

Board of Education and what they hope to accomplish, followed by questions from the audience. Audience members will be provided with an index card upon arrival on which to write questions.

The facilitator for the Candidate Night activity will be Bill Thompson, former county superintendent of schools. Hockney said he encourages as many members of the community as possible to attend. "The Board of Education of Dist. 117 will be asked to make many important decisions over the course of the next four years as we look at such critical issues as enrollment growth, space utilization and the continued improvement of the instructional program in order to adequately prepare students for the 21st century," he said. "It will be important that we have the most qualified board members as these decisions are made."

Podstawa agreed, saying, "Sequoit Pride can do a lot to assist Antioch Community High School. However, the board of education must provide the leadership. It is our hope that by sponsoring this Candidates Night, the members of the communities of Antioch, Lindenhurst and Lake Villa will be better informed when they cast their vote."

The candidates for the Dist. 117 Board of Education are Edward Koziorowski, Sandy Jacobs, Joe Kane, Donald E. Metric, Fred Fettering III and Kathy Werchek.

Shopping spree ends in arrest

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Evelyn D. Livingston's shopping spree last Friday at 12:09 a.m. ended up with her arrest for theft over $300. Livingston allegedly removed more than $800 of merchandise from the Jewel Osco Store on Route 173 without paying for it.

"The store observed her walking up and down the aisles loading up a shopping cart," said Antioch Police Department Deputy Chief Charles Watkins. "Then, according to store employees she walked to the exit door and went to her car."

In her cart, police found 59 video movies, three bouquets of flowers, two helium balloons, a telephone, 12 packs of cigarettes, four birthday cards, two bottles of champagne, batteries, and three framing prints. The total value of the items came to roughly $850.

Employees told police the 33-year-old woman never checked the items out. "None of the stuff was even in a bag," said Watkins.

The Antioch woman was taken before a judge in Waukegan, charged with theft over $300 and she was remanded on a $30,000 cash bond.

Police have a handle on a 22-year-old suspect who allegedly stabbed a man in the chest outside a Fox Lake tavern early Sunday morning.

Authorities know where to find the suspect who is a Round Lake resident. He took off from the scene after the stabbing occurred. "We will be in possession of a warrant within 24 hours," Fox Lake Police Chief James Busch said Tuesday.

Police plan to charge him with aggravated battery and possibly armed violence.

According to police, Edward A. Kvaas, 28, of Gurnee was stabbed outside the Yacht Seas tavern on West Grand Avenue after an altercation earlier inside the bar.

Police speculate Kvaas and the suspect were more than likely arguing over a female.

Yacht Seas owner Dick Hendricks said he only saw one of the subjects inside the bar earlier.

Kvaas was stabbed once in the chest, according to reports, and he made his way back to the bar where he collapsed once he got inside.

Fox Lake paramedics said Kvaas was in a potentially serious condition since the stab wound was so close to his heart. Also, his lungs were filling up with blood.

They called for the Flight for Life helicopter which transported the victim to the John Doyne Hospital in Milwaukee.

On Monday, a hospital spokesman said Kvaas was in satisfactory condition.

Halloween will soon be here —watch your pumpkins

As if you didn't know, Halloween is just around the corner. From the looks of some stores' motifs though, you would have thought we slept right through Halloween and Thanksgiving. What happened to waiting until after Thanksgiving before bringing out the Christmas decorations? As a kid, that Friday after Thanksgiving was "Take the Fake Tree Down from the Attic" day. Now we haven't even heard our first "trick or treat" and Santa is ho, ho, ho'ing at us in the malls.

I thought that maybe with the beating the pumpkin crop took this year during our hot summer, Halloween fell off the calendar and not all of us heard about it. And as consumers, we were forced to pay over $3 for a small, slightly orange, round ball no bigger than a grapefruit, which the local supermarkets try to pass off as a pumpkin. I even got a ride on our insurance policy covering those little semi-orange globes. I certainly hope the turkey crop fared better during the summer heat wave or the Pringle household will be eating hamburgers Thanksgiving day.

And in all actuality, how do we know that first Thanksgiving dinner consisted of turkey, dressing, cranberries and green jello with carrots? What pilgrim was going to admit they had sliders (i.e. White Castle burgers) for dinner? Our obsession for fast food had to stem from somewhere; goodness knows we didn't learn that trait from our meat-and-potatoes parents.

But getting back to Halloween, I bet some prosperous dentist invented Halloween. I mean, who really benefits from this gum chewing, lollipop licking, candy eating holiday? I have an idea that this dentist and his brother, who was a candy manufacturer, sat down one night over a card game and came up with a sure way to pay for their children's college education and put a new BMW in their driveway every year. Then some shirt-tail relative named Hallmark jumped on the bandwagon and started producing all the appropriate accessories and party ware to go along with the festivities.

Halloween was so much simpler when we were kids. Your costume consisted of an old sheet thrown over your head with two eye holes cut out and a torn pillowcase flung over your shoulder to hold all your loot. Then you scoured the neighborhood for the best treats and smashed a few pumpkins along the way. None of these elaborate costumes, x-rayed candy before eating it, and decorating the outside of your house like it was Christmas.

To save yourself a lot of heartache and to protect your costly investment through this Halloween, I would suggest bringing in the pumpkins every night before bed. At their going rate, they will be a hot commodity on the black market, especially if they already come carved with their own personal candle!

Happy Halloween, everybody. I hope the ghosts and goblins are good to you. And I bet if you call in the morning your dentist will have an immediate opening.

PTO meeting

This is just a reminder for all you parents who have kids attending Grass Lake School: There will be a PTO meeting Wednesday, Nov. 1 at 7 p.m. at the school. Now attendance was really, really light at the October meeting so we are hoping to pick things up a little this month.

The new PTO committee is trying to fulfill their main objective, which is to provide for the children of Grass Lake School. Right now they are trying to pull together plans for a Breakfast with Santa, but without viable input from the parents, it's hard to get so much done with so little time left. The chairperson for the event is Toni Giaimo, so whatever help you may have to offer her will be greatly appreciated.

Also on the agenda, for all you parents who have kids involved in the Chess Club, Mr. Tomei will be there to give an overview about the club and provide you with any additional information you may need.

We hope to see more of you at the PTO meetings, and if you are not a member yet, we can take care of that business, too!

Show your support

The ALL (Antioch/Lindenhurst/Lake Villa) Parent Network will be hosting their primary fund-raiser this weekend in Antioch. The Network provides fun, entertaining post-prom activities for Antioch High School prom attendees. This year they will be chartering the Antia Dee II cruise ship out of Chicago for a two hour pleasure ride.

For a nominal fee, the students will be treated to food, soft drinks and entertainment. There will be raffles galore with some spectacular prizes such as VCRs and telephones. Motor coaches will be provided from the prom site to the pier and then back to ACHS when the cruise has ended.

The Network is self-supporting and is not attached to any other group or organization.

Their main objective is to provide a safe, non-smoking, non-drinking environment for the kids so they may continue on with their celebration after the prom dance is over.

This weekend there will be representatives collecting the much-needed donations in various locations around town wearing bright red aprons so you can't miss them. For your donation you will receive a small red ribbon to tie around your antenna, door handle, rear view mirror or other appropriate spot, to show your support of this well organized, much-needed organization. If you would like to make a contribution to this worthwhile organization, you can send checks payable to ALL Parent Network, P.O. Box 713, Antioch, IL 60002.

Okay, folks, let's get out there and show our support for the youth of our communities—they are our future.

GRINDING IN THE NIGHT

An estimated one in 20 adults and three in 20 children unconsciously grind their teeth at night. It is the sound of bruxism. While the noise may disturb spouses and children, it has a far more distressing effect on the sleeper. Nocturnal grinding can exert thousands of pounds of pressure per square inch on the surfaces of teeth. It can be rough not only on teeth but on the supporting bone, the gums and jaw joint.

For many years, bruxism was attributed to the release of tension from emotional stress. However, many dental authorities today believe that the causes exist in the patient's mouth. Night grinding may be an unconscious effort to correct irregularities of the chewing surfaces of the teeth. Dentists term this a malocclusion. They grind away to eliminate a spot that is too high or to find a comfortable place to fit the upper and lower teeth together.

If you have this nightly grind problem, your first stop should be your dentist's office...before you do any serious damage to your teeth.

Antioch Jaycees win awards, look to increase members

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

As the Antioch Jaycees continue to grow in membership, President Brian Stoddard believes the charity organization will be able to contribute more to the community.

The Antioch Jaycees, a charity organization comprised of young professionals age 21 to 39, won regional and state awards.

Stoddard was recognized as the "Outstanding President" in the North Region.

"I guess it means I've been doing my job," said Stoddard, who was active in the Jaycees in Indiana before moving to Lake County last year.

Stoddard praised Antioch Jaycees members for showing their commitment to community service through volunteer participation.

"Although we have a small chapter, we have excellent participation," said Stoddard, adding that up to 10 members attend meetings and the Jaycees average a 40 to 50 percent turnout at various events.

"That's pretty rare for a chapter this small," Stoddard said.

Antioch Jaycees have 25 dues-paying members. Three new members were added to the organization this summer.

"There may be more joining next month," Stoddard noted.

Antioch Jaycees also won a state award for "Outstanding Membership Retention" and recruiting new members.

"It (award) shows that you're keeping your people interested enough to stay aboard," Stoddard said. "If we can get more people and new ideas, we can better serve the community."

The Jaycees will assist the Village of Antioch in celebrating its second annual "Halloween Howl" Oct. 27 and 28. For two days, the alleys in downtown Antioch will be transformed into a maze of Halloween fright with "Dracula's Cave," "Tunnel of Terror" and the "Mummy's Tomb." Children will be delighted with a "Happy Haunted Graveyard" and "Smiling Spirits."

Hours will be from 6-11 p.m. on Friday and from noon to 6 p.m. on Saturday. The event will conclude with storytelling and a bonfire from 6 to 8 p.m. on Saturday.

The Antioch Jaycees are also preparing for its Santa Phone, in which members act like Santa's helpers, and the Christmas Wish List, in which the Jaycees donate gifts to needy children.

Stoddard said the Antioch Jaycees welcome new members. Interested people should call Stoddard at 395-8035.

Board holds meeting on the road

Antioch High School board held a meeting in Lindenhurst as part of a commitment by the board to hold meetings in the whole district.

"There were quite a few residents. It was nice to see," said Board President Laurel Dahl.

Dahl said the board will have more board meetings at Lindenhurst and Lake Villa. Many of these sessions will include honors award recognition.

"It lets parents see how we conduct our business and gives us the opportunity to recognize achievement. We want to continue to do that for all of the communities," Dahl said.

The committee sessions will still be held at the high school.

In other business, the board extended the contract of William Ahlers, business manager to 1998.

"It was a way we could tell him how much we appreciate how he has helped us with finances. It was a way of saying thank you," Dahl said.

The board also extended the contract of Principal Susan

Sheriff talks about Halloween safety

Soon the streets will be filled with little ghosts, goblins and witches trick or treating this Halloween. And, to make sure this is a more enjoyable and safer Halloween, Sheriff Grinnell of Lake County offers some valuable safety tips.

Remember when designing your children's costumes that face paint is preferable to a mask. Masks should have adequate holes for proper respiration and peripheral vision. All trick or treaters should wear some sort of reflective clothing, carry a bright orange bag and carry a flashlight or glowstick to make it easier for passing cars to spot them while they walk on the sidewalk or left side of the road facing traffic.

Young children should always be accompanied by an adult. Either a parent or older child should stay within close range at all times and never let the children go down a street by themselves. Walk with the children to each house and wait in the driveway or by the door until the children return.

Older children should travel in pairs or in groups at all times while trick or treating and never venture down a dark empty side street. Parents should know the route that their children are following. Children should always walk together to the front door of each house and never run across the street or across the yard. Dark, unlighted houses should be avoided.

Tell your children to save all their candy until they get home.

You should closely inspect all candy. Throw away all unwrapped candy or any suspicious looking goodies. If your child does get sick, try to determine what he or she had eaten and where it came from. Call your doctor or the hospital emergency room immediately and save all wrappers.

Also remember that your jack-o-lantern and any other electrical decorations can be a fire hazard. Keep them out of reach of small children and away from flammable materials such as draperies, furniture and paper decorations. Do not leave your house unattended.

"Halloween is a fun time in Lake County," Sheriff Grinnell concluded, "But let's make it a safe time as well."

Cong. Crane hails house passage of Medicare bill

Eighth District Congressman Phillip M. Crane hailed House passage of the Medicare bill as an historic vote which will save Medicare from bankruptcy.

Congressman Crane is a member of the Health Subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee which drafted the legislation approved.

"We have reduced planned spending by $270 billion over seven years while at the same time, guaranteeing that Medicare assistance will continue to climb to protect senior citizens," Congressman Crane declared.

"Medicare will remain the fastest growing program in the Federal Government," he continued, "and spending per senior will increase from $4,800 today to more than $6,700 in 2002. This is an increase, not a cut in Medicare protection."

The congressman also noted that the legislation provides that senior citizens will continue to be able to choose their own doctors. They will be given a number of choices for the manner in which they wish to continue and to protect their health care insurance.

"This bill assures 37 million Americans who receive Medicare benefits that they will not be

delay," he said.

Most of the assessment changes were minor. "I don't think there were any dramatic increases," said Larson. "Anywhere."

Residents wishing to appeal the assessment changes must meet strict deadlines. "The final filing date is Nov. 16," reminded Larson. All the necessary paper work must be in to Larson's office by that date.

For more information about appealing an assessment call the Antioch Township Assessor Cliff Houghton at 395-3378 first.

Antioch Seniors donate to village

MARY FOLEY

Member of the Antioch Senior Center made a $500 donation to the Village of Antioch. The seniors made sure to tell the board they did not want the money used for the center.

"The people over there are aware of the great contribution and support we get from the village," said Director Paul Howard. "The people of the center want to make sure the money does not go back to the center."

"We don't have a lot," said Loretta Yurgens. "But, the board wanted to say thanks to the village."

The Antioch Senior Center is a hive of activity. From card games to sing-alongs, line dancing to outings, the center is open to provide fun as well as needed services to seniors.

The money donated came from the several fund raisers held during the year. One of the biggest events is the White Elephant Sale, which will be held next month. The sale will begin at 9 a.m. on Nov. 8 and continue until 2 p.m. at the center on Holbeck. In addition to normal sale items, baked goods and Christmas crafts are sold and a raffle will be held.

"We use the money to keep the center updated," said Howard. "We also donate to the Antioch Rescue Squad. The center also sponsors a little league team every year."

The sale is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend. Free coffee will be available.

Youth orchestra founder to perform

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

When Carol Leybourn moved to Grayslake several years ago, she noticed a lack of formal training for stringed instruments in Lake County. Inhibited by growing enrollments and shrinking budgets, schools were cutting superfluous programs and music was one of them.

Leybourn decided to give to Grayslake and the surrounding communities by founding a group known as the Lake County Youth Orchestras (LCYO) in May of 1994. The group has since flourished, bringing in young string players from all over the county, eager to learn more about their classical craft.

Now, a world class classical pianist is giving to the group again. Along with world class cellist Laura Kenney, Leybourn is performing a benefit concert for the group, to help raise money for the upcoming concert season. Leybourn has performed to excellent reviews all around the world and is also a member of the faculty of College of Lake County and the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville.

Kenney has been principle cellist for several top orchestras and among other degrees holds a bachelors and masters in music in cello performance from the University of Michigan. She is on the faculty of Lawrence University of Arts Academy in Appleton, Wis. She is also Leybourn's daughter.

"I've been in music all my life. It's kind of nice to give something back. It is also nice to play with an incredibly talented person who happens to be my daughter," Leybourn said.

The benefit performance will be held at the Church of the Redeemer at Old School and Bradley Roads in Mettawa. The performance will give Leybourn the chance to play on the church's Grotian grand piano, something she has been looking forward to for more than a year. Performance time is 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for senior citizens and students under 18. Seating is limited. For further information call 604-1031.

The performance season for the LCYO begins with the Nov. 19 Fall Concert. LCYO performances are at the United Protestant Church at the corner of Whitney St. and Park Ave. in downtown Grayslake.

Ripley skis top honors in novice

Ryan Ripley, Lake Villa, took top honors in both the Men's Slalom and Men's Trick Competition at the International Novice Water Ski Tournament held at Pleasant Shores, Van Wert, Ohio.

Ripley, a 1994 graduate of Carmel High School, hopes his point values will advance him to the professional tour circuit next season.

Ryan, an engineering student at the University of Dayton, is the son of Carl and Maryhelen Ripley of Lake Villa.

Antioch soccer ends season at regional finalKEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Close, but no cigar.

That was the story of the Antioch soccer team all season, and it happened again as the Sequoits lost another close match to Stevenson 1-0 in the regional final to end the 1995 season.

Stevenson scored 15 minutes into the second half to advance to the sectional.

"We tried and tried and kept pounding, but we couldn't get it in," said Antioch Coach Brad Wilson.

Antioch advanced to the second round of the regional after defeating Deerfield 1-0 in a double overtime victory. James Patterson netted the game-winning goal.

"We played well enough to win against Deerfield," Wilson said. "We only allowed one shot goal after halftime."

Antioch concluded its season with a deceptive 9-11-1 record. The Sequoits finished in third place in the North Suburban Conference. The conference losses came

'We need to work together more and increase our speed.'

— Brad Wilson,
Antioch soccer coach

against Libertyville and Stevenson, both of whom advanced to the sectional.

"After losing the first two conference games, we came back to win the next four and we beat Crystal Lake Central, who was ranked," Wilson said. "That was a big boost. At that point, we started to turn things around."

Nine of Antioch's 11 losses were one-goal games. "Our record is deceiving," Wilson said.

In addition to Patterson, Antioch will be losing seniors Brian Weeks, Bill Johnson and Cal Cruickshank. "A lot of our key seniors will be graduating," Wilson noted as he looks to next year's team.

Returning include mid-fielders Chris Placko and Chris Phillips. Steve Harvey will return at goalie, and Kevin Chudd returns as a forward. Chris Hodge will lead the defense.

"We're looking for him to step up because we are losing most of our defenders to graduation," Wilson said.

The coach encourages his players to work together during the off season to build better team unity and chemistry.

"We need to work together more and increase our speed," Wilson said. "The game is getting quicker and quicker."

How sweet it is.

It was payback time for the Antioch girls cross country team as the Lady Sequoits nipped by 3 points Libertyville to gain the regional crown for the second consecutive year.

"What can I say?" wondered Coach Dick Harland. "The girls ran exceptionally well. They all had great times."

Antioch edged Libertyville 52-55. Waukegan, Zion-Benton and Carmel were the three other teams to advance to the sectional in Schaumburg.

Antioch defeated Libertyville in a dual during the regular season, but lost to Libertyville during the conference meet to settle for second in the North Suburban Conference.

The regional title was payback.

Standout runner Megan Durney took second behind Libertyville's Katie Leffelman. The clincher was the four other runners who finished in the top 16. Libertyville had three other runners in the top 17.

"One of the things that put us over the edge was the difference between our second and fifth runner," Harland said. "If you can get a pack together, it makes a difference."

Liana Rothermel was 9th, Beth Lennon was 12th, Christina Barbic was 14th and Esther Scheurer was 16th.

"This was a character builder. Maybe not talking about it during the week helped them relax," Harland said. "It's a good shot in the arm to go into the sectional."

The sectional will include some of the top teams in the state, but Harland has high hopes Durney will qualify for the state. The top five teams advance, and the top seven individuals not on a qualifying team also advance.

"I think she has as good of a chance as anybody. It all depends on how the teams and individuals run," Harland said of his ace, Durney. "It's great to have a young lady who leads by example, and that's made a difference for our top seven runners. The younger girls look up to her. They admire her; they respect her."

Lennon qualified for state two years ago as a sophomore. Rothermel, Scheurer and Barbic will experience their first sectional. Shayne Jacobson and Megan Mitchell will also join the Antioch contingent at sectional.

"Our girls are going to have to run their best race ever to get out of that sectional," Harland noted of the upcoming competition.

Harland said this year's success will be beneficial for recruiting and for keeping the interests alive for the younger girls.

"It gives them an opportunity to be recognized by their peers," Harland said. "Maybe now it's our turn..."

Antioch spikers fall to RL in first round of regionalKEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Antioch proved to be its worst enemy as the volleyball team fell to Round Lake in the first round of the regional.

The season finale dropped the Sequoits to an overall record of 16-18, the first losing season registered under head coach Gwen Varney.

"Our whole season has been erratic," noted Varney, who said the team lacked a consistent go-to player. "It is always hard to know who's going to come out and play."

The three-game (13-15, 15-8 and 15-12) match against the Panthers may have epitomized Antioch's up and down season. At times, the Lady Sequoits sparkled as Erin O'Connell, Carrie Gofron and Julie Case were over powering with their hits.

After losing the first game, they took charge in the second game to build an 11-1 advantage and to lead Antioch to a 15-8 victory.

At other times, mistakes were costly. In fact, every point Round Lake scored in the final game was off an Antioch miscue, whether the ball was hit into the net, sent long or veered wide.

"We won sloppy, but we won," admitted Round Lake Coach Diane Eiserman. "The way both teams played, whoever was going to make the least amount of mistakes won."

"I feel bad for the seniors because they put in a lot of hours into the program," Varney said.

Mary Ipsen, for example, injured her knee during last weekend's Lake County Classic volleyball tournament. She received the doctor's approval to play the night before the regional contest.

"I give her a lot of credit for wanting to play so badly," Varney said.

The season had some bright spots as well. Antioch captured the Wilmot tournament and overcame towering Libertyville early in the conference season.

"It's been a lot of fun this season with these kids," Varney said.

Gofron, a hard-hitting junior, is expected to lead the team next year.

"I expect a lot out of Carrie Gofron," Varney said. "She doesn't serve hard but there's a lot of movement in the ball."

Sophomores Jenny Cardis and Jenny Ipsen, who sparked the Sequoits with a string of four points behind her serving in game two of the regional, showed signs hope for the future.

"They did a pretty good job for their first regional," Varney said.

Viking lightweights end season unbeaten

The Antioch Lightweight Vikings Youth Football team finished the regular season of play in the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois (JFLNI) unbeaten with a 7-0 record with an easy 33-0 rout of the McHenry Hornets.

The Vikings finished in first place, a game ahead of the Warren Packers (6-1) and begin playoffs on Sunday against the Mundelein Colts at Antioch High School.

Running back Adam Niles opened the scoring midway in the first quarter on a nine yard run that capped an eight play scoring march. The Vikings added to their lead in the second quarter when quarterback Mark Purnell plunged over from a yard out and back Mike Smith added the extra point.

Excellent line blocking throughout the contest was anchored by center Nick Kocinski, guards Chris Kocinski and Jarrod Lewis, tackles Joe Kennedy, Luke Larson, and ends Nick Balen and Jeff Johansen made things quite easy for Antioch's running backs to total 247 yards rushing.

Early in the third quarter, back Brandon Flitcroft scored on a six yard run with the extra point by Charles Pawlowski. Antioch held McHenry and just five plays later, back Brad Groth scored on a 24 yard run. Finally, with four minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, Pawlowski capped an 11 play scoring drive with a one yard touchdown run and an extra point.

Equally as impressive as the Viking offensive unit, the defensive squad limited McHenry to just three first downs and 61 yards offensively. The hard hitting play of the Antioch front line of Nick Balen, Pat Swanson, Jim Peters, Dane Anderson, Jeff Norwick and ends Rob Lodesky and Chris Rogalla, held McHenry in check throughout the contest.

Balen led all tacklers with five, including a quarterback sack and fumble recovery. Peters and Anderson also had a fumble recovery each which stopped McHenry with minus yards rushing.

The Viking linebackers of Adam Niles, Jerrad Ponce, Eldon Rivelli, and Brad Groth allowed just two completed passes. Niles had four tackles with Ponce and Rivelli three each. Rivelli and Niles each recovered a fumble. Groth totaled 98 yards rushing with Adam Niles adding another 91 yards.

Four teams, Antioch, Warren, Grayslake, and Mundelein, are set to compete in the Conference playoffs this weekend. The Vikings host Mundelein with Warren hosting Grayslake on Sunday.

Blitz, Power, Rockers continue to win

Blitz

The Blitz traveled to St. Charles to face a very tough Celtics Green team. The Blitz were victorious for the sixth straight time this season by a score of 1-0.

The first half was an even battle, finding strong play by both teams. Late in the half, the Blitz scored on a shot that deflected off a St. Charles player into the goal. As both teams were headed back to midfield for the kickoff, the referee denied the goal.

Tied 0-0 going into the second half, the Blitz came out with a renewed intensity. Playing outstanding team soccer, Lindenhurst dominated allowing Becca Bleyer to score the lone goal from a pass by Susan Woodruff.

Amie Carlberg, Nicki Kral, Tami Wright, Carrie Gofron, Jill Denoma, and Elly Elfering led a total team effort by Lindenhurst. Melissa Helbig earned the shutout in goal.

Power

The Lindenhurst Power defeated the St. Charles SC Comets 3-0.

The game remained scoreless for the first 30 minutes until Sarah Richardson crossed a pass in front of the Comet keeper that Jamie Wismer was able to bang home.

The Power offense kept the pressure on the St. Charles keepers forcing two misplays that led to the next two goals when Richardson was able to convert on two rebound shots with the assists going to Wismer and Teri LaRoche.

Lauren Beatty, Nicci Estep,

Kristen Gamlin, Kelsey Hendrickson, Jourdan Phillips, Jenny Porter, and Esther Scheurer all contributed to the defensive effort.

Rockers

The Rockers have continued their winning ways the past two weeks with victories over the Edison Park Celtics and the Wheeling Wildcats.

The Rockers traveled to Niles to play Edison Park and came away with a 4-1 victory. In the first half, Tanya Earl and Erin Peacy both scored off Celtic goal kicks. Miranda Korbal and Michelle Lenczuk scored in the second half with assists going to Annie Heath, Kelly O'Connell, Robyn Mortenson, and Kristina Gopp for a 4-0 lead.

The Rockers soundly kept their home streak alive with a 9-0 victory over Wheeling.

The offensive barrage was led by Heath (three goals, one assist), Earl (one goal and two assists), Peacy (one goal and two assists), Vicki Garrison (one goal and one assist), Beth Fries (one goal and one assist), Kristina Gopp (one goal and one assist), Lauren Cole (one goal), Stephanie Willding (two assists), Lenczuk and Robyn Mortenson each with an assist.

The defense was on top of its game with Theresa Goscinia, Christine Laning, and Michelle playing well.

Rockets

The Lindenhurst Rockets continue to hold their opponents scoreless with a 0-0 tie against Park Ridge.

The Rockets' record is 5-0-2 and have not allowed their opponents to score during this seven-game season.

Strong defensive play by Lissa Coby, Megan Placko, Becky McBrady, Kristen Gagna, and Michelle Marturano held Park Ridge to only four shots on goal during the game. The Rockets' goalies during the season have been Elizabeth Martin and Lori Knupp.

Turbos

The Lindenhurst Turbos (boys Under 13) traveled to Hinsdale to take on the Shockers and came away with a 2-2 tie.

The Turbos struck early in the second half off a shot from Michael Marachetti that hit the cross-bar, Chris Cole picked up the rebound which was stopped by the keeper, but Matt Peterson's shot got through.

The Shockers countered with a goal of their own before Steve Colletti hit Sean O'Neill who then worked the ball to Jeff Prorok who put a hard shot over the goalie's head. The Shockers tied the game with a late goal.

The Turbos fared better the next day with a 2-0 win as the Shockers were the visitors.

They took a 1-0 lead in the first half as Colletti moved the ball up to Peterson who passed the ball over to Prorok in the middle, who then fired a shot past the keeper.

The second half goal was set up as the Turbos pushed the ball up to Ari Brown in the middle, who was stopped by the defense, but was able to push the ball over to Marco Markovic whose shot found the corner of the net.

Sequoits finish finale on losing note

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Mixed emotions.

The Antioch Sequoits concluded their regular season, but gave Lake Forest a second season.

Antioch dropped the 1995 season finale to Lake Forest 39-7 to end the year 4-5. Lake Forest, however, gained new life as the Scouts needed the win in order to qualify for the playoffs.

"It didn't end like we wanted to, but Lake Forest is a pretty good team," said Antioch Coach Del Pechauer.

After a tough 1-4 start, the Sequoits managed to win three out of their last four games. Three of Antioch's losses came to playoff-bound teams including No. 2-ranked Stevenson, Lake Forest and Libertyville, all three of which finished in the top three respectively in the North Suburban Conference.

"We could have finished 5-4. We came on better at the end of the year, and the effort was there all year," Pechauer said.

After two quick scores, Lake Forest quarterback Ryan Douglass exploded. He ran for a 48-yard TD, connected for a 37-yard pass scoring reception and threw for another touchdown from the 15 yardline.

By the end of the day, Lake

Forest racked up 323 yards rushing and 53 yards passing.

"Ryan Douglass does a good job for them," Pechauer said. "They ran the ball on us well. We never were able to stop them on defense."

Antioch split the 147 yards of rushing between backs Ajredin Elez, Jim Groth, John Migalla and quarterback Walter Martens. Antioch was able to score when Elez rushed from six yards out.

Martens ended his Antioch quarterback career with 86 yards passing aided by a diving catch by his replacement next year, Dave Gooch.

"He made a big-time catch with his finger tips," Pechauer said of Gooch, who is expected to be the quarterback next year. "He's a good athlete. (Next year)

We want him to run and throw the ball. We throw when we think we have to."

The bulk of the offensive line will be returning next year, but Pechauer believes with the loss of All-Conference linebacker Jason Breen Antioch will have to start from scratch on its defensive unit.

"Defensively, we have to build up our linebackers. We have a lot to do there," Pechauer said.

As for this year, the Sequoits have begun packing up the equipment.

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

It was the last game of the year, and neither team had post-season action to look forward to,

'This was our playoff game for us. We may not be going to the playoffs, but we beat our rivals Grayslake and Grant.'

—Jay Videlka
Round Lake running back

but both teams played as if though their final game was a must-win situation to get into the playoffs.

Both teams entered the contest with equal 3-5 records. A mere five miles separate the two high schools, so the rivalry is intense.

In short, the Round Lake Panthers and Grayslake Rams were playing for pride.

After 48 minutes of unrelenting defense by both teams, Round Lake running back Jay Videlka broke the scoreless affair on the second play in overtime with a 4-yard touchdown plunge.

Seconds later, Videlka bulldozed his way through the Grayslake offensive line for the 2-point conversion.

Round Lake prevailed and gained bragging rights with the 8-0 victory over Grayslake. Round Lake finished the year 3-2 in the Northwest Suburban Conference and 4-5 overall. Likewise, Grayslake finished 3-2 in the NWSC but fell to 3-6 overall.

"This was our playoff game for us," said an elated Videlka. "We may not be going to the playoffs, but we beat our rivals Grayslake and Grant."

Grayslake Coach Dan Dillon, whose team was battered before, during and after the game, could only shake his head.

"They found our hole," Dillon said of the game-winning touchdown. "We weren't at full strength. This will eat me all during the off season."

Videlka was also the defensive hero. Grayslake had the chance to tie the game in overtime with four chances to score from the 10 yardline.

On the first play, Videlka sacked Grayslake quarterback Tom Mainord for a 9-yard loss. A fumble and two incompletes later, the Panthers went wild.

"I just did what I had to do," Videlka said. "It was our last game. I wanted it. The team wanted it. We did it together."

During regulation, both teams penetrated the red zone for scoring opportunities. But the raining, wet and slick conditions made field goal attempts unlikely.

"It was a great game for both sides," remarked Round Lake Coach Kevin Dempsey. "I can't say enough about our defense. The win gives the juniors something to look forward to next year."

Dillon has high hopes as well. The Grayslake freshmen and sophomore squads took second-place honors in the NWSC, and the varsity team was vying for a conference title a week prior to the Round Lake game, but the Rams lost to eventual conference champ Marian Central.

He praised the efforts of defensive specialist Luke Kron, who had four sacks in the contest.

"Luke had a great year," Dillon said. "It's kids like that you build on. Players coming up should model after him."

Gantt gains Rams spot in CC sectional

An abbreviated schedule and running against the region's best did not slow Jason Gantt down.

The Grayslake senior finished second to Libertyville's Andrew Willgess at the regional cross country meet at Lakewood Forest Preserve.

His time of 15:42 was 11 seconds slower than Willgess' winning time on the flat course. Both will be competing at the Schaumburg sectional meet Oct. 28 at Busse Woods.

"He was racing only for three weeks (due to mono) and he is doing extremely well. He has kept improving," Grayslake Coach Joel Peebles said of the Rams' top runner.

Gantt's splits were almost identical for each mile as he ran 5:12, 5:15, 5:15. "He wanted to finish in the top three. Willgess was 10 seconds ahead after one mile and finished 11 seconds ahead," Peebles said.

Gantt beat Calvin Garth of Waukegan, the third-place finisher in 15:58.

Jason Wilcox was the second Rams finisher in 17:57, his best effort at Lakewood.

"Wilcox was one of the keys to us winning the Northwest Suburban Conference. He did a good job in only his second year of running," Peebles said.

Grant's Chuck Bosworth made the top 20, as he was 19th. The Bulldogs had 211 points for Grayslake finished with 119 points in the meet easily won by Libertyville's 30 points. Carmel was fifth with 150 and gained the last spot for teams qualifying for the sectional.

Pete Brown (10th), Matt Petkus (25th), Brian Leider (31st), Dave Nakon (40th) and Jim Kwiat (49th) paced Carmel.

Mike Ray's seventh-place finish led Warren High to a fourth-place finish with 115 points.

In addition to Willgess, the Libertyville pack included Joe Rierden as sixth, Greg Magnusen in ninth; Ted Drozd in 11th and Mike Kruizic in 12th.

As for the sectional, Peebles believes the meet again will be a "mini-state meet." Bids for the state meet at Peoria Nov. 4 will be at stake. Gantt will be shooting for a top seven individual finish.

Former Antioch standout helps Northwestern win

Antioch football may have finished a disappointing season, but last weekend the program received national attention.

Former Sequoit standout Mike Warren found himself in the national limelight when he snatched an interception for the Northwestern Wildcats and lumbered 53 yards on the return, just shy of paydirt.

Warren is a fifth-year senior playing on the defensive line for the Cinderella Wildcats. In his five-year collegiate career he has seen Northwestern rise from the cellar to a No. 11 national ranking this year.

Warren grabbed his interception in front of the first sell-out crowd at Dyche Stadium in Evanston since 1983. His interception occurred on the second play in the fourth quarter and it helped the Wildcats smash Wisconsin 35-0. After the Wisconsin win, Northwestern ascended to No. 8 in the national rankings.

"It was great to see. I was really excited for him," said Antioch Coach Del Pechauer, who helped develop Warren's football prowess during his Antioch football from 1987 to 1991.

"As a senior he was a leader and was quick laterally," Pechauer recalled. "That's why Northwestern liked him."

The Northwestern Wildcats quickly attracted nation-wide attention after defeating Notre Dame and Michigan, both at their home turfs. The 6-1, 4-0 Wildcats are guaranteed their first winning season since 1971 and they have eyes for a possible Rose Bowl appearance.

"He was very coachable and very humble, even after the Notre Dame," said Pechauer, who noted Warren frequently visited the Sequoits during football practice.

"As far as I know, that was the first time one of our own made a big-time play on national television," Pechauer said.

Antioch Raiders collect victory

The Antioch Raiders Featherweight team was 3-0 this season after defeating McHenry 33-18.

Scores came from Allan Rapinchuk on runs 10 and 47 yards. Bobby Grasser found paydirt on a 15-yard rush and a 47-yard kickoff return. Quarterback Ryan Smart closed out the scoring with a 17-yard keeper.

Steve Ruthowski led the blocking on the offensive line.

Defensively, the Raiders had solid games from Ryan Roberts, Reed Adams, Jason Wegel, Shane Spencer and Chris Orozio.

Sheriff's Dept. early retirement proposal fuels speculation

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The proposal to offer early retirement to Lake County Sheriff's Department employees has sparked new rumors and old speculations. Because the proposed plan would affect older employees, particularly in the upper management of the Sheriff's Department, various theories have been propounded.

The most often repeated rumor is that current Sheriff Clint Grinnell will retire after November of 1996, and Undersheriff Gary Del Re will be appointed to take his place. This theory seems to have its genesis from a quoted remark during the 1994 GOP primary election between now Round Lake Beach Police Chief Ed Sindles and Grinnell.

But, where ever the story began, Del Re says it is false. "I have had no discussions with Sheriff Grinnell regarding his retirement," said Del Re. Grinnell made a point of saying he planned to finish out his term in office during his 757 N. Main Street last campaign. According to Del Re, nothing has been said to change that campaign promise.

Furthermore, Del Re emphasized the early retirement plan is only a proposal. No action has been taken by the Lake County Board to date.

'I have had no discussions with Sheriff Grinnell regarding his retirement.'

— Gary Del Re,
Lake County undersheriff

In any business or organization, major changes often generate speculation. And, the proposed early retirement program could result in major changes in the department.

"If the early buy out is approved, we would have 33 individuals eligible," said Del Re. Since many of those individuals occupy high ranking positions in the department, major promotions would need to occur.

Some rumors include specific individuals for certain spots. However, the rumors may have more to do with employees taking advantage of advanced police education. Del Re said there has been no discussion of putting anyone in any particular spot.

Del Re said he has been encouraging middle management employees to advance their education in order for them to assume leadership positions.

"Changes are coming," said Del Re, "but they are always done with thought. When we make changes, it will always be done with the idea of what is best operational."

Metra officials claim red tape causes delay

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

Lake County commuters hoping to 'really fly' with Metra this spring will have to postpone plans until August, most likely.

Metra officials have announced the long anticipated April 1 start of their expanded Wisconsin Central service has been delayed to summer. Officials, however, are reluctant to set an exact date. In fact, officials now say the long-discussed April 1 start was never an official date but a target date.

"Everyone was hoping we would be ready by the spring of 96' but we never set an official target date," said Chris Knapton, media relations coordinator for Metra.

However, documents and information put out by Metra indicate otherwise. In the rail agreement signed by Metra and the Village of Antioch, the anticipated starting date is April 1. Another brochure available to the public and published by Metra clearly states the start date as scheduled for the spring of '96.

Throughout the summer of 1995 municipalities waited impatiently to begin station work because two events prevented them from going forward. One was a delay of Wisconsin Central/Metra rail agreement, and 'Everyone was hoping we would be ready by the spring of 96' but we never set an official target date.'

— Chris Knapton media relations coordinator for Metra.

the other was the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) response to the agreement.

Knapton said a clause in the station agreements with municipalities said Metra would reimburse the communities if the line didn't become operational. IDOT refused to allow state funds to be released until the rail agreement was signed.

The rail agreement was delayed because the top officials of Metra had a difficult time meeting with the Wisconsin Central executive responsible for the contract. Knapton said the executive had a heavy travel schedule and it was difficult to arrange meetings.

"The staffers had come to an agreement; it was just a matter of getting top people together to sign the agreement," Knapton said.

The commuter line will run from Antioch to Union Station. A major stop on the line is O'Hare International Airport.

Lake County communities with new stations on the line include Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake Beach and Vernon Hills.

"We are pleased with the progress of the line," Knapton said.

Knapton said an official target date won't be forthcoming until about a month before the line is officially ready to be opened.

20, of Gurnee, were killed when the pick-up truck struck a school bus Oct. 23 at approximately 4 p.m.

The accident occurred on Dilleys Road between Rte. 132 and Stearns School Road.

"I heard a loud noise and the parts of the pick-up truck were flying all over," Brian Kelleher, age 10, a neighborhood resident, said.

A third person in the truck, Jason Stevens of Beach Park, was transported to St. Therese Medical Center.

The Laidlaw school bus was transporting three students home from St. Joseph High in Kenosha. One lives in Lake Villa, another in Gurnee and a third near the state line. One was a child of a Newport Fireman and he came and picked up the daughter.

Shirley Marano, assistant guidance counselor, said counselors talked to the students and their families.

Commander Irv Sheldon of Gurnee Police Department said the police may seek more information from the injured victim.

"The pick-up truck crossed the center line and hit the school bus," Sheldon said.

Two citizens, a dental hygienist and a doctor, performed cardiopulmonary resuscitation on one of the victims, but he later died from massive injuries,

Navy League honors past, looks ahead to the future

SUZIE REED

Regional Editor

There was something for everyone at the gala luncheon celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Lake County Council Navy League. Navy brass and County officials shared the stage with a number of sparkling entertainers at the Country Squire Banquet Hall in Grayslake.

Guests included State Sen. Adeline Jay Geo-Karis, Lake County Clerk Willard Helander, Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson and Lake County Board member Bob Neal. Among the many Navy officers were former Great Lakes Commanders Rear Admirals Mack Gaston and Jack Calhoun. The luncheon was an opportunity for the League to say "Welcome aboard" to a number of newcomers, including Rear Admiral Patricia Tracey, who became Commander of Great Lakes Naval Training Center in July.

Early arrivals were treated to stirring music from the Antioch Brass Quintet and a solo from Rita Byrd. A lively luncheon was followed by testimonials and toasts and more spirited music. Among the talented performers were five finalists in the North Suburban Symphony Young Artists Competition: Kanako Kawai, from Libertyville High School; Mark Domanico, a Wauconda High School graduate; Caroline Chen, of New Trier High School; Lindsay Schoenberger of Glenbrook North High School; and Michael DeMarco, a senior at Stevenson High School. Chicago Gear & Transmission Co., a group primarily from Libertyville and Mundelein, offered a varied selection of show tunes and ballads from the war years.

Regional Navy League President Roycelee J. Wood described the mission of the Navy supporters: "The League does for the Navy what it cannot do for itself.

"The Great Lakes Naval Museum will be a major Navy League project in the years to come," she said. The museum is under the most capable guardianship of curator Trig Watson.

James Hotham spoke of the League and the special people in it, veterans who are no longer on active duty and retired civilian employees.

"There are a lot of former Navy people who don't want to hang it up," he said and explained some of the missions of the council in promoting the image and perception of the U.S. Navy, often restricted by regulations and budget limitations.

"The League serves as a liaison between the Navy and community," he said, noting that members are often those who know people with "deep pockets" for League projects.

Many of those projects are geared toward youth, as the League works with high schools and community groups to promote positive activities and encourage young people.

"The Navy League is poised to do more for Great Lakes than ever before in its history," said Hotham.

Geo-Karis presented a plaque to Trig and Dottie Watson of Mundelein, devoted Navy League members and organizers of the anniversary celebration.

Finch honored by lectureship series at Chicago Medical School

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

The Chicago Medical School in North Chicago wasn't just renamed in 1993 after a man. It was renamed after a presence, the embodiment of what officials want the school to most resemble.

One can tell the feeling toward Herman M. Finch, Chairman of the board of trustees of Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School, just walking through the halls of the school. At times, his name is spoken in hushed tones of reverence. This does not seem improper, since the very existence of the university today may very well be in gratitude to Finch's leadership.

When Finch took the reigns in 1967, the medical school was in financial trouble with a $3 million deficit. The Russian-born Finch, who emigrated to the United States at the age of 6, has guided the school through expansions and refocused the institution for research and actual medical practice in addition to education. Today, the school boasts $150 million in assets and is set to move into the next century as a full-fledged medical facility for learning.

In further honor of Finch and his 80th birthday, the faculty of the school established a distinguished lectureship series. The annual lectureship is in gratitude to Finch "for creating an environment in which excellence could thrive." The first lecture was delivered by no less than 1993 Nobel Prize winner Professor Philip Sharp, an esteemed faculty member at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Finch is modestly flattered.

"He (Sharp) is a delightful man and an important member of the scientific community. I'm very proud he was willing to come and speak at a lectureship in my honor," Finch said.

Sharp won the 1993 Nobel Prize with Dr. Richard Roberts for his pioneering work in genetics. Their discovery of the split gene may one day supply part of the answer to the treatment of debilitating viral diseases.

"I'm basically a curious person. When I discovered I could spend my life learning, I thought I had reached Nirvana," Sharp said of his work.

His speech, well over the heads of laymen, discussed his work in researching RNA, which is the body's primary producer of protein. The RNA strand is split with eight to 10 exons in between. The material in between is garbled information with no use until it is decoded when the RNA strand is spliced together.

Sharp used a muscular dystrophy cell as an example of RNA gone awry. That cell has roughly 30,000 exons. The resulting decoding process is so complex a minuscule fraction of the RNA actually performs its set task, which is to synthesize protein. Subsequently, the disease manifests itself with the atrophy of muscle tissue.

Viruses also have genetic codes as well as RNA strands. Sharp said genetic work done in the study of retro viruses has been key to the limited understanding of how to treat them.

"We wouldn't know what AIDS is caused by unless we understood retro viruses. With this knowledge, we were able to clear AIDS out of the blood supply," Sharp said.

Sharp is excited that the understanding of split genes will also help people avoid some pain in the future. Sharp said understanding split genes will help reduce some of the use of "crude chemicals" for treatment of illness, especially mental illnesses.

"We will always have pain and suffering but this type of science will continue to improve our quality of life," Sharp said.

Five candidates compete for CLC board

Five candidates are competing for two trustee positions for the CLC board of trustees. The incumbents of six-year terms include Nan Fairhurst of Long Grove and Barbara Oilschlager of Grayslake.

Challengers are James Bradner, Jr. of Highland Park, William Griffin of Lake Bluff and Kaz Mohan of Highland Park.

Voters who want to meet the candidates face to face will get their chance at 6 p.m. Nov. 2. The student senate at CLC will sponsor a candidate forum in the main lobby of the Grayslake campus.

The format will include a statement by each candidate explaining their position and qualifications for the board. Following closing remarks, an informal discussion with the candidates will be held.

The forum is open to the public. For more information, call 223-6601, extension 2287.

William M. Griffin

Bill Griffin is a 37-year-resident of Lake County and a 1977 graduate of the College of Lake County who has been a part-time teacher at the school for the past 10 years.

"Serving on the CLC board would be a way of giving something back to an institution which helped me at a very young age," said Griffin. "As a long time supporter of the College of Lake County, I believe it is time for a change on the board."

Although, Griffin believes the board has done an outstanding job, he feels you can bring the experience needed to help satisfy the needs of students well into the 21st Century.

Griffin believes CLC must ensure that students are well-prepared for the future and that the college is working with business leaders to educate students which will become productive employees for them.

"I do believe we need to proceed with caution in terms of expansion and with tuition costs. We are on the big and offer some of the best programs of any local community colleges but we must take a careful look at our cost. CLC's tuition is also among the highest. We want to remain competitive."

Griffin is a Corporate Residential Manager with Commonwealth Edison with responsibility for new construction activity for all of Northern Illinois. He has been with ComEd for 22 years. He is also active in Lake County Republican Affairs and is currently working on the John Porter (R-10th Dist) campaign and Bob Dole's campaign. He is a resident of Lake Bluff.

Barb Oilschlager

Barb Oilschlager has served one six-year term and is running to retain her seat on the CLC board. Oilschlager first ran for the board because she believes the college is an icon of the county that has been her lifelong home.

"You get a lot of ownership when you live here a long as I have," said the long time Antioch resident who just moved to Grayslake this year.

When she graduated from Antioch High School years ago, she still remembers how high the cost of education seemed during her search for a college. CLC offered a good education at an affordable price.

Today, Oilschlager is the Assistant Director for the Lake County Area Vocational System. She is responsible for administering vocational programs for 16 high school districts. At one point or another, however, she has dealt with every educational level.

Her plans for the future are to keep guiding the school to meet the growth in the growth in the Lake County communities while ensuring the school's high reputation in the educational community on a national scale. She is pleased the college has been developing while still meeting the demands of the community.

"I am very proud of CLC. It is truly a fantastic institution," Oilschlager said.

James Bradner, Jr.

James Bradner a veteran of making tough decisions as a school board member. As a member of the Dist. 111 Highland Park, Bradner served as budget and finance committee member.

"We had to make tough decisions about our future," said Bradner. "I can make those hard decisions, if you only have $5 dollars in your pocket that is all you can spend."

Bradner feels he can bring a sense of financial responsibility to the CLC board. He feels that recent decision for expansion and other spending project may not have been given the scrutiny that they deserved.

Bradner believes CLC should be working with area businesses to ensure students and current employees have the access to educational programs which will guarantee their success in the work place.

He also feels one of the most significant issues facing the college is the search for a new president. Bradner feels that search should first be conducted within the state to find qualified candidates which are already familiar with state laws and won't require a learning curve.

Bradner is general counsel for Realtime Software Corporation of Des Plaines and is a 21 year resident of Highland Park.

Treasurer dies in Fox Lake

FOX LAKE—Fox Lake Treasurer Marilyn Hoehne died Friday morning after spending a week in the hospital and suffering a year-long illness.

Hoehne was also a former treasurer for the Village of Grayslake where she worked for eleven years. She had been treasurer for Fox Lake since 1983. Late last month she took long-term disability leave from her job. Rita Luebker took over for Hoehne after she was appointed by the mayor. She was married to Fox Lake Fire Chief Stu Hoehne. The two were set to move to Texas early next year where they would spend their summers in a mobile home they recently purchased. Mayor Ken Hamsher said Hoehne was an excellent employee who kept the finance department in tip-top shape.

Satellite station investigated

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Fire Department has been looking at several locations within the district to build a satellite fire station. No concrete plans to build have been made. Instead, it is part of long term planning by the fire district. Some considerations for the new site include new development as well as proximity to department members who can man the station, said former Fire Chief Todd Maplethorpe.

Village updates pet ordinance

GRAYSLAKE—When nature calls your pet always answers and someone should always clean it up. Now, if pet owners heed the updated pet ordinance in Grayslake, someone will. The most significant change in the ordinance regards pets and private property. If a dog does his duty on a neighbor's front lawn, it is no longer a civil case for the lawn owner to get satisfaction. It is a violation of village ordinance, resulting in a fine for the pet owner. The pet owner must have prior permission from the private property owner before christening the lawn as an official pit stop. The updated ordinance also has stern language for those who walk their animals in public. "If you're walking an animal without the proper clean up receptacle, you're considered in violation of village ordinance," said Grayslake Village Manager Mike Ellis. The ordinance, which Ellis said has not been updated for decades, is actually an outgrowth of requests from residents.

Drug bust at Kmart

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Two Lindenhurst men were arrested in connection with an alleged drug deal at the Super Kmart parking lot. Both were arrested for possession of marijuana with intent to deliver. Arrested were Joshua Bakk, 19, and Randy Burgmeier, 20. Police saw what appeared to be a drug deal and attempted to arrest the two and a 16-year-old Round Lake Beach boy. Bakk attempt to drive away but was stopped by police before he left the parking lot.

LHS teachers address board

LIBERTYVILLE—It is round two as the Libertyville High School teachers battle to encourage the board of education to set a meeting date to help settle a teacher's contract. Last week, more than 100 teachers demonstrated their solidarity by gathering in front of the two school buildings donning "Working Without a Contract" buttons. This week, nearly 70 teachers donning the same buttons flooded the board of education meeting to show their support behind Paul Matuszewski, president of the 170-member LHS Federation of Teachers, as he addressed the board. "What is troubling and frustrating to us is why this board of education has found it difficult to reach a fair agreement with us on salaries, benefits and working conditions," Matuszewski said. The teachers have been working without a contract since June 30. The last meeting between the two sides was Oct. 11. A federal mediator is expected to announce a new meeting date some time next week. The board's offer is a 12 percent salary increase over three years which includes $1,000 above the normal salary schedule to teachers at the top of the scale. The board also agreed to pay one-half of 1 percent of each teacher's salary toward health insurance for one year. The state requires teachers to contribute that amount toward the state's health insurance fund.

Elderly man killed in fire

LONG GROVE—A cause of the largest home fire in the village in 15 years will likely never be found, according to fire officials. Ernest Erickson, 83, died in the fire that destroyed his family's luxury home Oct. 21 and caused an estimated $400,000 in damages. "We were not able to find the specific item that started the fire, but we are very convinced it started in the kitchen area of the lower level of the house," said Long Grove Fire Chief David Grupp. Fire fighters found Erickson on the lower level of the home, about 30 to 40 feet away from where the fire began, Grupp said. Fire fighters pulled Erickson from the blaze, and transported him to Good Shepherd Hospital near Lake Barrington, where he was pronounced dead at 2:40 p.m. from inhalation of products of combustion, said Jim Wipper, Lake County deputy coroner. A total of 16 fire departments responded to the fire.

Haunted house at St. Matthew's

LAKE ZURICH—St. Matthew Lutheran School is hosting its Sixth Annual Haunted House at the school, located on Old McHenry Road between Quentin and Midlothian roads, from 7 to 10 p.m. Oct. 27 through 30. New this year is a Haunted Forest, a torture chamber, and art gallery, bungee maze and much more. The Haunted House is not recommended for children under 10 years of age. For them, the school will provide a Kiddie House, open from 3 to 6 p.m. Oct. 28 and 29. Admission is $5 for adults, and $3 for children. Games and refreshments will be available.

Attorney gets judgeship

MUNDELEIN—Joseph R. Waldeck, will be appointed Associate Judge for the 19th Judicial Circuit, Lake County. Waldeck is in the process of closing up his law practice now and will take the bench on November 14. He will be assigned to the Misdemeanor/Traffic Division. The date of his official swearing in ceremony hasn't been announced.

School to be preserved

GRAYSLAKE—In spite of the tragedy of vanishing one-room school houses in Lake County, at least one more of the icons of the past will be preserved. The Wright School, located in Libertyville Township on Casey Rd., will be moved this week to Prairie Crossings in Grayslake. The school, which has also been used as a residence, was annexed to Libertyville Elementary School District in 1959.

'Fact, fiction' meeting still clouds Route 53 issues

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Lake County transportation officials wanted to prove that the thought of extending Route 53 through central Lake County is not an already made deal behind the scenes.

But after the Lake County Transportation Management Association held a meeting dubbed "separating fact from fiction," they learned there are still many unknowns and they failed to invite those who oppose the $1 billion, 17-mile superhighway extension that is planned to bisect Long Grove, Hawthorn Woods and Mundelein enroute to Grayslake.

Officials from the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission, the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Toll Highway Authority updated TMA members on their current roles in regard to the Rte. 53 extension.

TMA executive director Bill Gleeson opened the session by noting, "We don't know if it's going to be built or not."

Elizabeth Penesis, assistant village manager in Long Grove, went out of her way to attend the event and later argued that the meeting was "stacked" with officials who are working to complete the extension. Long Grove opposes the extension.

"It was what we anticipated," Penesis said after the meeting. "Only one side of the issue was presented. What about those who oppose Rte. 53?"

'We don't know if it's (Rte. 53) going to be built or not.'

—BILL GLEESON
TMA executive director

Highway planners gave hints that there are still many "what ifs" before the project becomes reality.

First and foremost is the environmental impact study that must be completed before the toll authority can proceed with construction. IDOT is conducting the environmental study.

Wally Kos of IDOT said the department begins with the "no build" alternative and compares that to other alternatives such as expanding other regional highways, expanding commuter rail service and extending Rte. 53. He said the long and cumbersome environmental impact study will include public input.

"It is our democracy in action. We do have public participation throughout the project," Kos said. "If you can't stand the heat, maybe the project does not deserve merit."

Morgan Cotton of the Illinois Tollway Authority said his agency will adhere to the findings of the environmental impact study if the project is approved.

"If it's a no build, then we walk away from it," Cotton said. "If it's a build, we evaluate it and get concurrence from the governor."

He also said the tollway authority could have Rte. 53 built by the year 2000 if the environmental impact study is completed by 1996-97.

Jim Ford of NIPC said the commission will work with the Corridor Planning Council, which represents 10 villages that will be affected by Rte. 53, in regards to planning for drainage, growth and development issues.

In the meantime, some noted that the public is still left in the dark until a final okay or denial of Rte. 53 is reached. Don Giarrante of Koenig & Streys, a real estate firm in Libertyville, said the "unknown" is costing homeowners the value of their homes.

"Homeowners are losing thousands and thousands of dollars because of this," Giarrante said.

Hamelberg announces candidacy for Dist. 41

Pledging to run an efficient, people oriented campaign, Barrington Village President Ronald Hamelberg formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Representative in the 51st Dist., to succeed Rep. Verna Clayton who will retire in 1996.

Citing his experience and leadership, Hamelberg is well equipped to deal with the State of Illinois' leading fiscal concerns of education, taxes and balanced budgets. He is a certified public accountant with more than 35 years in the public accounting, state government and not-for-profit sectors. He is a former assistant to the state comptroller and internal auditor in the attorney general's office, and is currently the chief financial officer of the Community Renewal Society, a 113 year old not-for-profit agency related to the United Church of Christ in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Hamelberg received his BS degree in accountancy from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1958, and is a member of the University's Alumni Assn. Board of Directors.

Hamelberg was elected Barrington Village President in April 1993, while serving as a member of the village's board of trustees. He is a former Barrington Twp. Trustee and Barrington Twp. Republican Committeeman. Hamelberg has served 11 years as a member of the Governing Council of Good Shepherd Hospital, including three years as its chairman from 1989 to 1992, and is a former member of the EHS Health Care Board of Directors.

In addition to his local constituents, Hamelberg has gained the respect of government leaders throughout the area and state. According to State Rep. Kay Wojcik, assistant majority leader of the Illinois House of Representatives and Republican State Central Committeeman of the 8th Congressional District which includes A majority of the 51st Illinois House Dist., "As a friend of mine for 14 years, I can truly say that Ron is the most qualified person to represent the people of the 51st Dist."

Hamelberg and his wife, Nancy, are 35 year residents of the Village of Barrington. They have three children and three grandchildren. The 51st Dist. includes parts of Ela and Vernon Twp.s. in Lake County, and parts of Barrington, Palatine and Wheeling Twp.s. in Cook County.

VIEWPOINT

Murky gridiron theory belies NU dominance

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Northwestern, on its way to a marvelous season, has concocted ways to cope with a variety of obstacles—like the Notre Dame hex, Michigan might and Wisconsin obstanance.

In this Cinderella season, the Wildcats have overcome everyone and everything except their own innate Evanston gentility (remember, the only Purple loss came as the result of a gift, not defeat) AND now—the unfathomable Schroeder Theory of Reverse Domination.

In simple terms, coming into play only when NU and the Fighting Illini face off, the theory can best be explained that down is up, up is down, weak is strong. Form charts and past records are meaningless. You get the point.

Thus Champaign Saturday

becomes Ambush City for the nationally ranked Wildcats. The Illini, plodding through a lackluster season, lie in wait, their hope for an upset victory over nationally ranked Northwestern resting on the Schroeder Theory of Reverse Domination.

With reverse domination, the impossible becomes the expected. A few years ago, the nationally prominent U of I footballers sailed into the North Shore center of gridiron ineptitude expecting pint-sized quarterback Jason Verdusco to engineer an easy win. Aided by a chilling drizzle, the valient Wildcast were said to surprise the over-confident Orange and Blue. Actually, it was reverse domination in its most perverse form.

With a sound defense featuring the best secondary in college football and a dazzling star named Autry from Arizona (not Gene), the Wildcats head down-state expecting victory. Ah, danger lurks. Reverse domination.

Call it 21-17 in favor of Illinois.

EARLY SIGNS—William Rouse, now facing charges in the 1980 murder in Libertyville of his parents, was identified with violence as a young boy. As a trouble-making seventh grader, his parents attempted to house him in Allendale School, Lake Villa, but the facility for troubled youths decided against accepting him.

PAYING FREIGHT—If you look, the signs of how growth and development hit individual taxpayers in the pocketbook are everywhere. One such occurred the other night when Grant Township trustees accepted the bid of $25,181 for a one ton truck that will be used to plow snow in tight places like cul de sacs "in all the new subdivisions we're getting," explained Highway Com. Jack Kiesgen.

DANGEROUS GADGET—With children around the house, that handy little butane lighter with the trigger used to start backyard grills is one of the most dangerous things you can have around the house. Fire Chief Terry P. Mastandrea of Lake Zurich, addressing a group of parents and children at a fire prevention meeting, said the last 10 or 12 home fires in the community have resulted from using the grill lighter as a plaything.

DUBIOUS HELP—A guy named Bill Forman of Morton Grove is flooding suburban mailboxes with offers to help taxpayers "obtain refunds for overpaid real estate taxes." Forman explains his fee is 33 percent of any refund received. No refund, no fee, he adds.

Only one thing wrong with Forman's invitation, according to Lake County authorities. Forman doesn't explain that he's talking about the limited homestead exemption—which is available to homeowners without obligation. Just ask.

State's Atty. Mike Waller and Supervisor of Assessments Ken Larson, who looked into Forman's offer, said that all you have to do is contact your local assessor to make sure the exemption has been applied. The exemption provides for an automatic reduction in the property assessment of $3,500. This translates into a typical saving in real estate taxes of $200.

So when Bill Forman tells you this, he's made himself $67. Bill's waiting, but now you don't have to call.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Even at their tender ages, Erika and John have learned that grandparents are soft touches. They refer to one of their grandmothers (the lady of our house) as "Mama Doughnuts." They've gotten used to visits from grandmother accompanied by a sack of doughnuts. What the munchies lack in nutritional value they make up in fun. When is Mama Doughnuts going to visit again?

Bill Schroeder offers editorial commentary every Tuesday on Lake County Live presented by STAR Channel 3/U.S. Cable at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Rte. 53 hurdles loom formidable

The extension of Rte. 53 into the heart of Lake County is a lightning rod of controversy.

When Bill Gleeson, executive director of the Transportation Management Assn. of Lake County (TMA), stated publicly that "we don't know if it's going to be built or not," the assertion was not greeted by Rte. 53 opponents as a breath of fresh air, but was received with skepticism.

Many foes of the $1 billion, 18-mile tollway view Gleeson's assertion as a smoke screen to divert attention from the fact that Rte. 53 is going ahead with behind-the-scenes maneuvering. Where Gleeson's views are open to question is the fact that TMA is part of an officialdom that has been pushing Rte. 53 since it was resuscitated from Illinois Dept. of Transportation mothballs seven years ago.

The notion that doubt still hovers over the tollway plan takes on credence considering that important environmental impact studies are still to be conducted, major Chicago commercial investors are beginning to understand how tollways are a threat to their real estate assets and that actual construction costs are not known.

Considering these formidable hurdles, Rte. 53 is far from a done deal.

Magnet request spells advances

Rarely do taxpayers get more than they're asked to give in the typical school tax increase referendum. But that seems to be exactly the case in a proposition up for consideration by Mundelein voters Nov. 7.

Electors in the elementary district are being asked to approve a $7 million referendum for which a portion of the proceeds have been earmarked for development of a magnet school scheduled to open a year from now at Lincoln School.

Supt. Richard Lanaghan said if the referendum is approved $2 million will go for improvements at Lincoln to bring it up to par with newer buildings in the system. School officials already are committed if the referendum carries to establishing a laboratory curriculum at Lincoln featuring a 12-month program, multi-age classrooms and other innovations.

The way the request for more funds has been positioned, voters in Mundelein will be provided an opportunity to make direct input on advancing the cause for excellence in education. The approach is refreshing as opposed to far too many tax hike measures these days that only offer more of the same in education—for more money.

Don't change creek's name

Editor:

Regarding the renaming of Squaw Creek in West Lake County, this name was given to Squaw Creek hundreds of years ago by the Indians who were the only ones living here at the time.

For this reason, I see no need to rename the creek or for anyone to say, "the term squaw is derogatory." Also think of the cost of changing name signs throughout the waterway.

Schools better than ever

Editor:

Education in Mundelein is better now than it has ever been. Years of hard work and investment are paying off, producing a school system we can all be proud of. Award-winning teachers and schools are proof that our students are being well prepared for higher education and the work force.

As a graduate of Mundelein High School, Carl Sandburg and Lincoln School, I've seen both districts grow in size and stature. The numbers say the growth will continue, so to maintain the current level of excellence, improvements are needed now.

On Nov. 7, voters will be asked to help maintain the quality of education in Mundelein by approving referendums for Dist. 120 and Dist. 75. Please don't choose one issue over the other. Many students pass through both districts. Both projects are necessary and worthy of a "YES" vote.

Courts, developer 'gang up' on citizen wetland protectors

CAROLYN WIDTMANN

On Aug. 2, 1995, The Mylith Park Lot Owners Assn. (MPLOA) filed suit in federal court against the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) for failing to observe their own mandated guidelines in granting the permit for the proposed Clearwater Oaks town-home development in floodplain and wetlands on the north side of Slocum Lake.

The court agreed to hear the case on Jan. 8, 1995. Unofficial word from the Village of Island Lake, which has annexed the disputed site, was that the developer would not be starting work until spring 1996.

However, bulldozers, chain saws and woodchippers arrived on Tuesday, Oct. 10 and started uprooting every living thing in vital parts of the wetland.

So the MPLOA requested a temporary restraining order from the court, and on Friday, Oct. 13, did not get it, even though Judge Manning acknowledged during the hearings that Mylith Park had standing and merit.

Judge Manning also acknowledged that there was sufficient evidence to prove "Irreparable Damage" to our wetland. Jim Patchett of Conservation Design Forum testified this wetland had already been abused by new development and will be destroyed under the proposed development plan. According to Mr. Patchett, "the scientific data just does not exist to recreate this type of wetland."

Paul Clementi and Christine Biebel of the law firm of Hinshaw and Culbertson have recently been donating their time and expertise to assist Mylith Park. See COMMENTARY page B5

Road commissioner considering County Board race

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

All of a sudden, Amrich's Ford was stuck from behind by a pick-up truck traveling 55 miles per hour. The entire back end of the car was crushed, and the force of the crash pushed the remaining front end forward one block. Amrich cleared the glass off himself and got out of the car—uninjured. He then walked back to Amrich Mobil, the station he co-owns with his three brothers, and towed the car. The other driver was ticketed by police.

Mundelein High School, Carl Sandburg, Washington, Mechanics Grove and Lincoln School will be focal points in the lives of Mundelein families for many years. Porter was driving force

Editor:

We were pleased to read your editorial regarding Ft. Sheridan. As members of the Joint Planning Committee, we are working hard to shape the re-use of the fort to benefit all the people of our communities.

However, we were puzzled that your editorial did not recognize the public official who deserves the most credit for securing the 290 acres of open space at the fort: Congressman John Porter.

Congressman Porter authored the amendment that requires the Army to convey this land to the Lake County Forest Preserve District. He worked tirelessly to advance the interests of local residents in this regard and made sure that this provision remained in the final version of the bill signed by President Clinton.

This is a tremendous accomplishment, and on behalf of our communities and the Fort Sheridan Joint Planning Committee, we want to salute Rep. Porter for his leadership in making it happen.

School spending distressing

Editor:

My mail today included an appeal by Round Lake Area Schools Dist. 116 asking for support of referendums which will appear on the ballot on Nov. 7.

The appeal included distressing facts such as that we only spend $4,517 per child in a mandated classroom of 29 students. Well, fellow citizens this amounts to $130,993 per classroom. Since the average teacher is being paid about $50,000, what causes the disparity?

As a former business manager and treasurer of a private school, I would welcome the opportunity to operate a school system for $130,993 per classroom. I assure you that I wouldn't think of reaching into your pockets for more money (for at least 10 years).

I'm happily self-employed right now, but, if you'll pay me $130,993 per classroom, I would be glad to run your school system. I'll even guarantee increased ACT and SAT scores.

Message contained impact

Editor:

I wish to compliment you on your coverage of the First Congregational Church in Waukegan and its position to affirm people of all sexual orientations. This church community is to be lauded in taking this positive position. Lakeland Newspapers deserves thanks for bringing this information to its readership. I believe the message here has wide impact: we are all together in life and we need to welcome every person independent of differences in race, language, sexuality or whatever.

Park with this lawsuit, but had not had enough time to prepare for the urgency of a restraining order. The U.S. District Attorney's Office was given reprieve by way of a recess because the judge felt they did not have enough time to prepare for this motion.

Prior to the recess, the assistant district attorney had claimed Mylith Park should be suing the developer and that if the USEPA and USACE were made to modify or revoke the permit they would then be sued by the developer.

Counsel for Mylith Park convinced Judge Manning it is not the developer, it is the system allowing the destruction of the wetland and shoreline of Slocum Lake. During the recess, counsel for the government contacted and joined forces with the developer. The government and the developer were now working together against private citizens and the environment.

Together they apparently had enough "legal prowess" to convince Judge Manning that the agencies did not abuse their discretionary authority, even though this development would cause "irreparable damage" to the wetland in question. It was quite obvious that the agencies made their decision not to revoke or modify the permit from fear of a lawsuit, even though another federal agency had identified the impact to be more than minimal.

Mylith Parkers can now see precisely the extent of the area in which the developer will construct a berm two feet high through the middle of the wetland. A huge area has already been reduced to a wasteland; it is at least as large as the road that was originally rejected by the agencies as "more than minimal impact."

The citizens and the courts should be questioning the definition of minimal impact to the environment and the government process in siding with a developer under duress and threat of a lawsuit.

It seems to me that my community is exercising its civic duty and responsibility by seeking relief in the judicial system since the administrative (agency) process can't seem to exercise its knowledge and expertise. Unless citizens continue to stand up and apply pressure against all the odds, it won't change.

Editor's note: Besides being an advocate for the environment, Carolyn Widmann is involved with a variety of community affairs. She is a sales executive with a credit and collection service. She resides in unincorporated Wauconda Township.

Homosexuality 'gift' argued

Editor:

Neal Tucker's articles on the Waukegan church which "affirms all sexuality is a 'gift of God'" left several serious misunderstandings and misrepresentations of clear Bible teachings unanswered. It also presented unchallenged some very sloppy lines of reasoning.

To argue that "all sexuality is a 'gift of God'" is clearly false even from nonbiblical grounds. We as a society rightfully outlaw several forms of sexuality (necromancy, bestiality, pedophilia). Such expressions of "sexuality" are abhorrent to almost every one even apart from Biblical argumentation.

Even if one grants the argument that one is born with a homosexual orientation (the scientific evidence is unclear at best), would those who hold this view be consistent if a pedophile claimed he or she was born with the predisposition and therefore had a right to fulfill it—if not a mandate in the name of honesty? Pastor Lutz's logic would have to grant validity to this as well.

It is very faulty argumentation (not to mention untrue to a simple reading of scripture) to claim that every drive we are born with is good, valid or even neutral. How about natural born "hot heads," or those born genetically bent towards alcoholism? Are such predispositions validated and now appropriate to express? Or are they not difficulties to be admitted—an overcome with the amazing grace of God?

To read acceptance of homosexuality into the scriptures requires a forced interpretation at best. Such "interpretive skills" rip the scriptures from the average reader's hands—hardly God's desire, nor those of any pastor. Contrary to that, it is quite easy to find in scripture God's love, forgiveness and powerful help for homosexuals and all other sinners (including this writer).

The good news of scripture is that by God's grace we can admit our sin and receive forgiveness and help in overcoming any sinful behavior or tendency in our lives, including homosexuality. Jesus loves and died for all of us sinners. Far from being homophobic or a "gay bashers," biblical followers of Jesus Christ are to extend the same hope and grace which they received by faith.

Thank you for this opportunity to try to set in balance an otherwise one-sided presentation of a very critical issue. May we always be people who love God with "all our minds," as evidenced by clear and biblical thinking.

Scrooge wrote editorial

Editor:

The editorial in the Oct. 19, edition which asked people not to support school referendums must have been written by Scrooge.

To suggest that people who do not have children in school should not pay school taxes is like asking people not to pay into Social Security because it's used to cover those currently retired, and I'm not. We also shouldn't pay because we are saving for retirement in other ways. It's the same rationale for not paying taxes because the road in front of their house isn't bad, or not paying into park districts because you don't use the parks or programs. You could even use the rationale not to pay taxes because you don't believe in war. These are the voices of Scrooge.

In our state, the only taxes which people have any direct control is the property tax that supports schools. Other taxes go up with little or no direct action by the voter. However, when it comes to school referendums the voters come out to take out their tax frustrations on our country's most important commodity, our children.

When you go into the voting booth, don't be a heartless Scrooge. Open up your minds to a brighter future that has learned that as citizens we have a responsibility to become a part of society's better good. Vote yes.

Real estate exec Good to head UCPA campaign

United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Greater Chicago (UCPA) announced that Steven L. Good, president of Sheldon Good & Company, will serve as chairman of its 1996 annual campaign.

Good will spearhead UCPA's fund-raising efforts which center around the annual telethon, set for Jan. 20 and 21, on WLS-TV (Channel 7). Already, the annual campaign is underway with more than 20 business and committee leaders ready to serve on the campaign committee under Good's guidance.

As president of Sheldon Good & Company, Good has propelled his company to the largest firm ($6 billion) in the U.S. exclusively conducting real estate auctions, and the sixth largest commercial brokerage firm, overall.

Prior to joining Sheldon Good & Company, Good worked for a number of government agencies including the U.S. Senate, office of the U.S. Attorney, and the U.S. Dept. of Justice. In addition to his legal experience, Good is an expert in the field of privately-negotiated real estate sales, multiple-property auction for residential and non-residential properties, and "lease-at-auction" programs.

Good's commitment to the community does not end with UCPA Chicago. He serves on the board of directors for The Contemporary Arts Council and the University of Chicago Cancer Research Foundation. He regularly serves as celebrity auctioneer for numerous civic and charitable organizations.

Good, a resident of Highland Park, received his juris doctor degree from DePaul College of Law and his bachelor of science degree in finance from Syracuse University.

United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Greater Chicago is a non-profit human services organization dedicated to advancing the independence of people with disabilities in Cook, Lake, Kane and DuPage Counties.

Public Service Award nominations accepted

The Chicago Medical Society is now accepting nominations for its 1996 Public Service Award. The annual award honors a physician for extraordinary service to the community.

The award, initiated in 1978, recognizes achievements and contributions in the fields of local public service or government. They need not be health-care related. The purpose of the Public Service Award is to inform Chicago-area residents of the work of local physicians and to encourage CMS members to participate in civic projects, such as mentoring programs, youth outreach and other volunteer programs.

Dr. James Anderson won the 1995 award for his work and research in tuberculosis. He was a founder of the Cook County Tuberculosis Task Force and fought for tuberculosis reform in the Cook County jail.

The award will be presented on Jan. 19 at the CMS Midwest Clinical Conference. The deadline for receipt of nominations is Dec. 11.

Any member of the Chicago Medical Society may be nominated, and any individual or organization may submit a nomination. To determine a doctor's membership status, contact the Society office at (312)670-2550, ext. 226.

Lecture to deal with 'listening to patients'

Lutheran General Hospital's department of clinical ethics is sponsoring its 17th Annual Human Values Forum Ethics Lecture, "Listening for the Patient's Story," from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 22 at Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Dempster, Park Ridge.

The lecture is a unique exploration of the patient's story as a relevant diagnostic medical tool. The patient's story—the personal narrative of the patient's struggle with illness in light of his values, beliefs, hopes and fears—is rich in details that contribute to the accurate diagnosis and treatment of illness.

"Too often when we care for patients, our energies are focused exclusively on the disease," said Ron Hamel, Ph.D., director of the department of clinical ethics.

"We sometimes neglect the patient's experience of illness, that is, how the patient understands, responds to and copes with his disease."

The lecture features two of the country's leading scholars in the use of narrative in medical education and clinical practice. Rita Charon, M.D., associate professor of clinical medicine, Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University; and Arthur Frank, Ph.D., professor of sociology, University of Calgary.

The department of clinical ethics promotes ethical decision making in patient care by providing clinical ethics consultation and education to Lutheran General Hospital employees, patients and their families.

Drug trial begun for at-risk cardiac patients

A medical study at 300 U.S. sites may involve more than 2,250 heart patients considered at risk because of unstable angina or electrocardiograph changes consistent with diminished blood flow to the heart which predisposes patients to heart attacks.

In Lake County, Tien C. Cheng, MD, FACC, FACP, an established clinical researcher at Saint Therese Medical Center, Waukegan, was invited to participate as a researcher in this double blind study that will assess the efficacy and safety of the platelet inhibitor Lamifiban. Currently, there are no medications proven beneficial to impact the outcomes of these at-risk patients.

The study, titled Paragon A (Platelet IIB/IIIA Antagonist for the Reduction of Acute Coronary Syndrome Events in a Global Organization Network) utilizes appropriate patients from the inpatient hospital population. The patients must have symptoms of acute myocardial ischemia and ischemic electrocardiograph changes and must be registered for the study within 12 hours of arrival at the hospital. They must be screened for eligibility screening at admission which includes a medical history and physical exam. The approved patient is put on an IV solution of Lamifiban with aspirin which is administered during three to five days.

The patient's vital signs are taken, the medication is administered, clinical status is analyzed and electrocardiogram and laboratory parameters will be obtained during and after drug administration at specific time intervals. Intravenous Lamifiban and aspirin, with or without heparin, compared with the current drug therapy aspirin and heparin, is expected to lead to a significant decrease in a composite of mortality and reinfarction. The patient will be monitored at one month, six months and 12 month intervals.

The sponsor, Hoffman-La Roche, Ltd., has also established 300 research sites in Europe and 100 South America.

The principal coordinating centers in the U.S. are at the Cleveland Clinic Foundation in Cleveland, Ohio and Duke University Medical Center in Durham, North Carolina. In Europe, the main site is U.H. Gasthuisberg in Belgium.

Dr. Cheng will work closely with Cathy Monroe, R.N., CCU, study coordinator at Saint Therese Medical Center, who will determine appropriate patients, handle research paperwork and administer medication.

Lakeland Newspapers to sponsor town meeting on Alzheimer's

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Lakeland Newspapers will sponsor a free Town Hall meeting on Alzheimer's disease, Nov. 6, at the College of Lake County's main campus in Grayslake.

"Alzheimer's Disease: Service, Support, Solutions" is presented by the Greater Chicagoland Chapter, Alzheimer's Association, and will feature a panel of professional and family experts answering questions from audience members about services, support and solutions for those caring for their loved ones with Alzheimer's disease.

"The Town Hall meeting can be a major factor in beginning to educate Lake County residents about the services available in helping patients and family members deal with the disease," said James M. Spiro, president of the Greater Chicagoland Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association. "The majority of Alzheimer's families are in the position of carrying for patients within the home. The town hall meeting is an opportunity to meet other families dealing with the disease and to learn more about what is available to assist families," Spiro said.

The Lake County town hall meeting is the first of four being held in the Chicago metropolitan area. Each of the three panelists will discuss basic information in their specialty areas with the bulk of the time spent answering audience questions.

Panelists will include: Dr. Elizabeth Kessler, M.D., member of the board of directors for the Great Chicagoland Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association, who is Medical Director of the In Alzheimer's assessment team at Highland Park Hospital and an attending neurologist at Highland Park Hospital and Rush North Shore Medical Center; Dan Kuhn, social worker at the Alzheimer's Disease Center at Rush Presbyterian St. Luke's will discuss caregiving and family issues; Janna Dutton, a lawyer with Monahan & Cohen of Chicago, specializing in elder law issues; and Wendy Miller, a family member who is also a member of the patient and family services committee of the Greater Chicagoland Chapter.

"The town meeting gives families an opportunity to talk about the issues. Support is very important to family members," said Spiro. "Caring for an Alzheimer's patient has been called the 36-hour day."

More than 4 million Americans are afflicted by Alzheimer's disease, including more than 100,000 individuals and their families in Chicagoland and approximately 5,000 in Lake County.

Alzheimer's disease is a terminal, progressive, degenerative disease that attacks the brain and results in impaired thinking, memory and behavior.

Alzheimer's is the fourth leading cause of death among adults in the U.S., claiming 100,000 lives annually. Victims of Alzheimer's disease can live between three to 20 years after initial diagnosis. Symptoms usually appear when a victim is in his 50s or 60s.

An estimated 12 to 14 million Americans will be affected by the year 2040. Currently, more than $40 billion is spent annually in the U.S. on Alzheimer's disease.

For registration or information on the town hall meeting, contact the Greater Chicagoland Chapter, Alzheimer's Association, (708) 933-2413.

Ten coping tips for the Alzheimer caregiver

Caring for a person with Alzheimer's disease is more frustrating, demanding and exhausting than most people could imagine. Nearly three million people with Alzheimer's—70 percent of those with the disease—live at home and are cared for by their families. Providing that care can be so stressful that caregivers become the "second victim," experiencing stress-induced physical and psychological symptoms, sometimes serious enough to require hospitalization.

To help caregivers provide the best possible care for their loved ones, while maintaining their own health and well-being, the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association offers the following 10 tips:

1. Get a diagnosis as early as possible. Alzheimer symptoms appear gradually, and the person will seem physically healthy, so it may be hard to tell they are ill. Frequently, both the individual and family members deny there's a problem because the possibility of Alzheimer's can be so frightening. But some symptoms of dementia can be reversed with a physician's care, depending on the cause. Even if the diagnosis is "probable," help is available. The sooner you know what you're dealing with, the more you can plan for the future and manage the present.

2. Do legal and financial planning. Consult an attorney on such planning tools as: power of attorney, to empower you to act on the individual's behalf; a will; a living trust; to appointing a trustee to manage the individual's assets; and a living will, to provide direction on how to make future medical decisions. Other topics include guardianship, property ownership or taxes. Financial planning also is essential, since expenses could include in-home assistance, nursing home and hospice. As much as possible, involve the person with Alzheimer's disease in the planning.

3. Educate yourself on caregiving. Alzheimer's disease has stages of progression, requiring different caregiving skills and capabilities. Certain techniques can enable you to address many of the behavioral symptoms of Alzheimer's disease to help both the individual, and you as the caregiver. For example, clearly marking the bathroom door will help the individual find it easily and reduce anxiety. Prevention techniques also are important, such as locking away medications so the individual can't keep hiding door locks so they can't wander away. There is a wealth of information available through the Chicago Area Chapters Association to help caregivers learn how to ensure quality care, and maximize the quality of life of loved ones at all stages of the disease.

4. Know what resources are available to help you. Caring for a person with Alzheimer's disease is often called "the 36-hour day." For your own well-being and that of your loved one, you should know what resources are available to supplement your care.

5. Get help. Trying to do it all yourself can exhaust you; you might even wind up sick yourself. The support of family and friends can be an enormous help; if they do not readily offer assistance, tell them you need their involvement.

6. Take care of yourself. It's easy for Alzheimer caregivers to devote themselves totally to their loved ones and neglect their own needs. Don't fall into that trap. By using available resources, you can pay more attention to yourself; watch your diet, exercise and get enough rest. Respite services are available; use them to take time off for shopping, a movie or a visit with family and friends.

7. Manage your stress level. Stress can manifest itself physically, emotionally, or behaviorally. Sometimes caregivers turn to alcohol or drugs to ease their stress. Be alert to your own stress symptoms and get help.

8. Learn to let go. People are often reluctant to turn caregiving for the loved ones over to others, even when that decision is in the best interests of both the person with Alzheimer's and the caregiver. Eventually, though this difficult decision must be made, the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association booklet, "Family Guide for Alzheimer Care in Residential Settings," provides guidelines on how to determine which facility will provide the best environment and meet your caregiving requirements.

9. Be realistic. Until there is a treatment or a cure, the progression of Alzheimer's disease is certain and inescapable. Some aspects of the caregiving process you can control, and others you can't. Grieve for the loss of your loved one, your loss of companionship and the future you dreamed of. But then, enjoy your good memories, live for each day, and get on with your life.

others to care for your loved one, because you're not up to it. You do the best you can. Give yourself credit. Being a devoted Alzheimer caregiver is not something to feel guilty about. Instead consider that your loved one needs you and you're there. That's something you can be proud of.

Halloween dress-up not just for kids

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

For those who fancy a little fun and imagination in their lives, often there's only one time of year they act out their fantasies—Halloween.

Favorite costumes

Adults who've been shopping at Center Stage Novelties, Inc. in Libertyville made the number one costume this year, Judge Lance Ito who won fame presiding over the O.J. Simpson murder trial.

According to Center Stage manager Justin Myers, a number of his customers are buying the mask and robe replica of Ito's.

At Fantasy Festival Costume Magic Centre in Crystal Lake, the most popular costumes include those for couples. Cleopatra's and Anthony's are big. So are the king of the Egyptians—Pharaohs, and just about anything Greek and Roman is very popular, said owner Bernice Ferraro.

Scarlet O'Hara and Rhett Butler, as well as gangsters and flappers are also favorite get-ups to don, according to Ferraro.

Myers explained his paired-clients also like the romantic appeal and often will choose to be like Romeo and Juliet; Robin Hood and Maid Marion; and Catwoman and Batman. Sometimes they'll want to be a little wicked and dress as warlocks and witches or devils.

"There are so many parents involved with their children [nowadays], the adults buy the costumes for the kids and themselves," said Joanne Linker of J.J. Blinkers in Antioch.

Kids get-ups

According to Linker, Halloween costume favorites for kids "seem to change from week to week."

"Last week it was Power Rangers. It's amazing. You never know what's gonna hit until October comes," said Linker.

Children's costumes that top the list this year at many shops are Mortal Combat action figures and Ninja fighters for boys. Girls tend to like dressing as fairy princesses, and the Cat Woman.

At J.J. Blinkers, it seems creepy movie character's are the big deal this year. A favorite is the "Halloween-The Return of Michael Meyers" movie character. It's a simple white face with brown hair, said Linker. With it kids will wear their own clothes. Kids who come into Linker's store are also buying adult costumes, if they can fit in them. There are a lot of grim reaper costumes sold to young people also this year. To her surprise there are also a number of children who want to be typical everyday characters such as cheerleaders, firemen and policemen, said Linker.

Unable to wait for Halloween, Chase Strom, 7, Vernon Hills, tries on a new mask while his mother Vicki pays for it. Photos by Todd F. Helsler

From toddlers to those in their golden years, costume shops seem to cater to everyone. "You don't have to be a child to enjoy Halloween. It's for all ages," said Ferraro.

Myers said people will spend sometimes up to $150 per costume depending on what it is. The most sought-after, higher priced designs currently are the Batman, Robin and Riddler movie characters.

Linker said these days it seems a lot of people get into Halloween like they would Christmas. They often decorate their homes up to the hilt. Customers often ask her to sell her own store displays to them, she said.

Buy or rent?

J.J. Blinkers sells kids costumes and sells and rents for adults.

At Fantasy Festival, many of the costumes are rented or bought, while some are custom-made. From a simple cape to a Renaissance dress, the cost depends on how elaborate they are, said Ferraro.

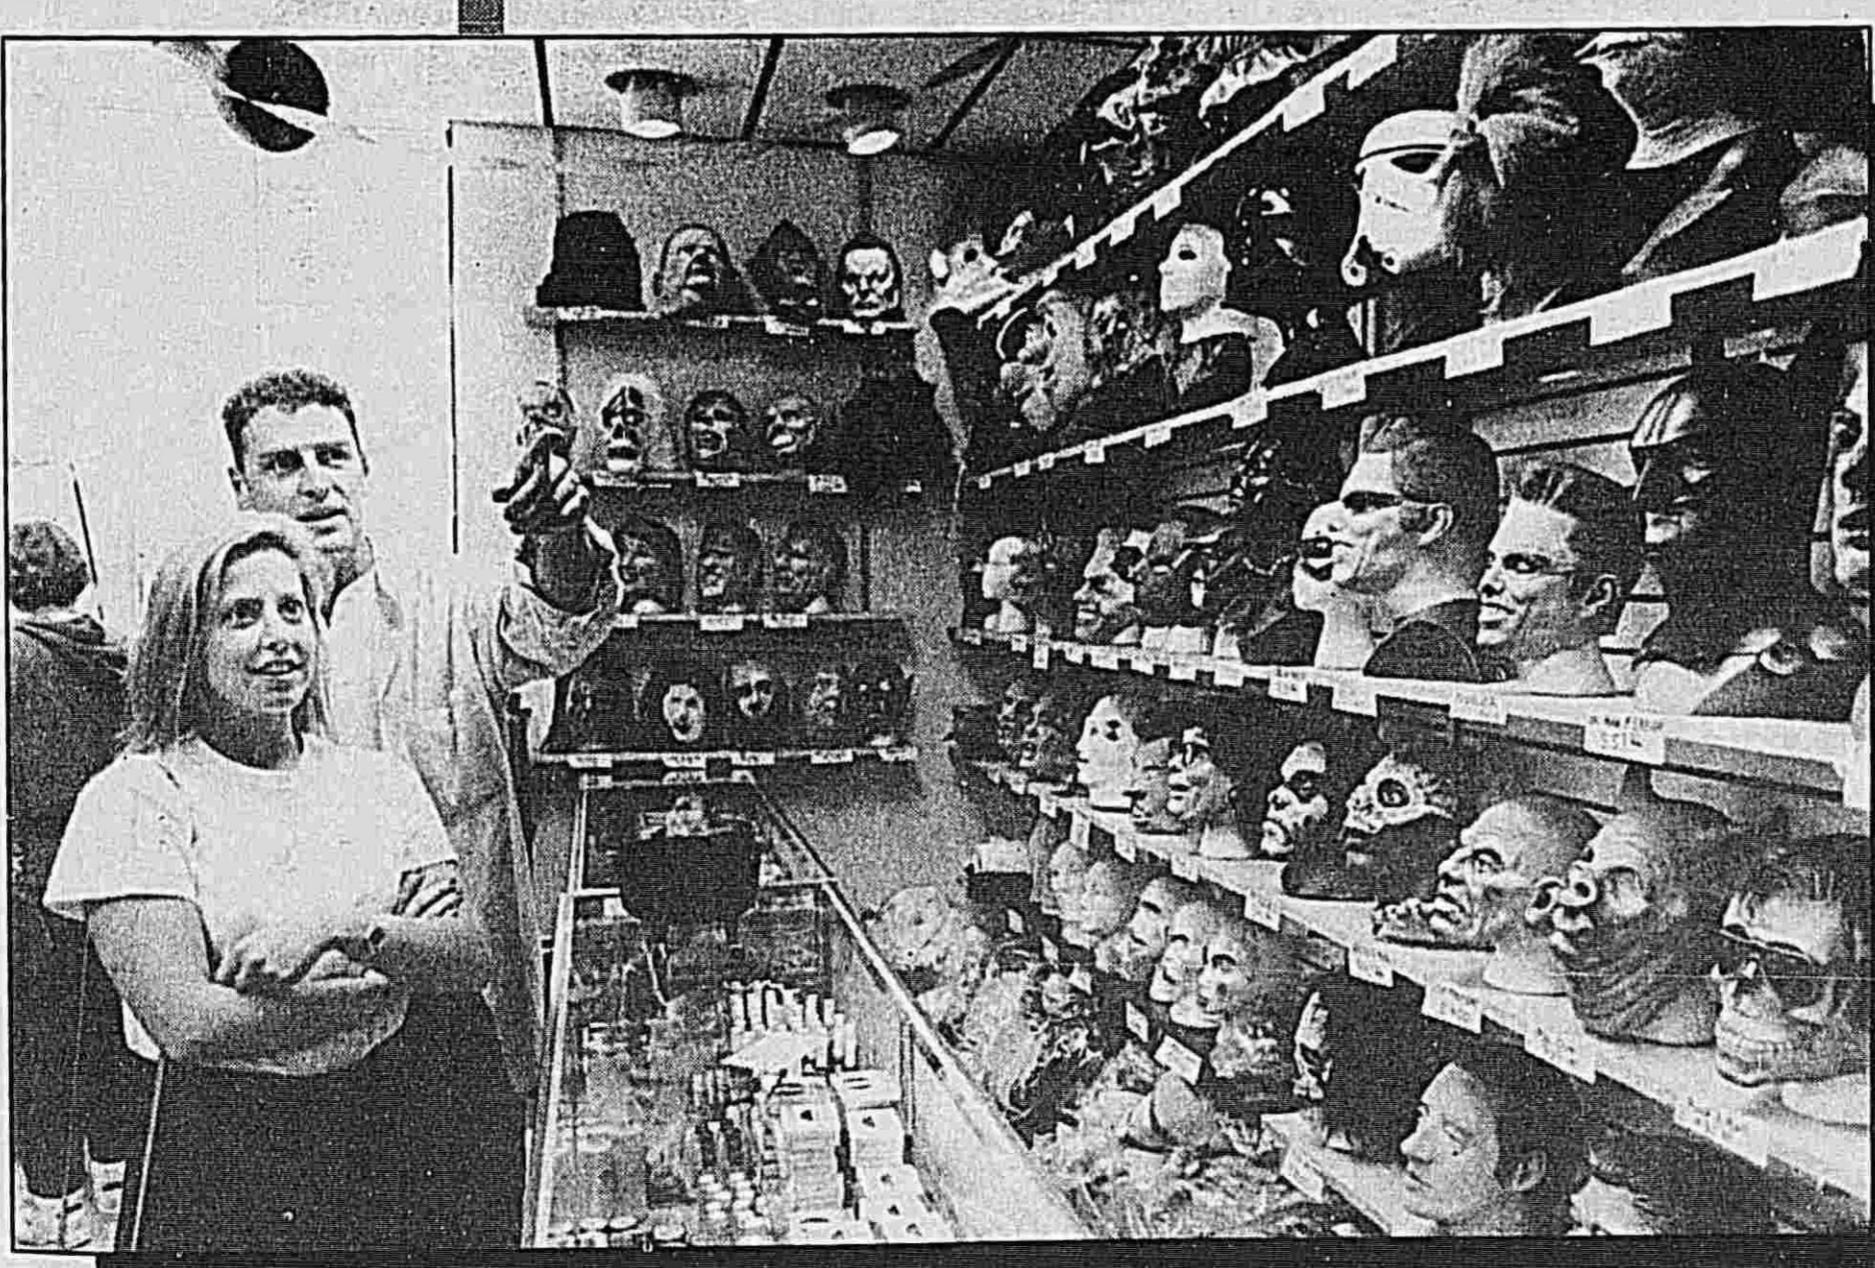

Parents usually buy their kids costumes since the children want to keep them as play clothes to wear again and again, Ferraro explained.

Don't wait

Those non-procrastinators will begin as early as August to decide on their Halloween costumes. Some however wait until the last minute, literally, and come into shops on Halloween night looking for something in a hurry. "That happens a lot," says Myers.

Both shop-keepers agree it's better to come in a little early for your costume. The main reason is, "Usually they're not sure what they want to be at all," said Myers. "There are so many choices, they [tend to] change their minds a few times." This is where the help comes in.

Myers and Ferraro explained they often assist their customers in the direction they must go with Halloween gear. It all depends on See DRESS-UP page B14

—CRITIC'S CHOICE

The cast from "Forbidden Hollywood" includes Kingsley Leggs as Batman, Cheryl Sylvester as Judy Garland's Dorothy, Lori Hammel as Julie Andrews' Maria Von Trapp and David Benoit as Tom Hanks' Forrest Gump.

'Forbidden Hollywood' gives big laughs at stars

"Sweets will rot your teeth, but movies will rot your mind," says the character seated on a park bench and holding a box of chocolates.

Tom Hanks in the film "Forrest Gump" never quite put it that way. But this is "Forbidden Hollywood," a witty, nutty takeoff that mercilessly spoofs the film world.

Created and written by Gerald Alessandrini (of "Forbidden Broadway" fame), this musical review playing at Chicago's Apollo Theater features only four performers—David Benoit, Lori Hammel, Kingsley Leggs and Cheryl Sylvester—but a cast of thousands!

Quick-change artists one and all, the fleet-of-foot and deft-at-changing-expression performers give royal sendups to the plastic world of Disney, the hash and trash of summer movies and silver screen legends, both contemporary and from yesteryear. You need not be a full-fledged movie buff to catch all the jokes, though it helps.

Zipping through some 40 skits, "Forbidden Hollywood" pokes fun at the gratuitous violence of "Pulp Fiction," Jim Carrey's rubber face in "The Mask" and Kevin Costner's megabuck flop "Waterworld." "Gone with the Wind" gets its licks, too, as does "The Wizard of Oz."

With remarkable clarity, abetted by some appropriately outlandish costumes, the cast mimics a galaxy of stars. Whoopi Goldberg, Liza Minnelli, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Barbra Streisand, Sharon Stone, Warren Beatty, Doris Day, Julie Andrews, Elvis Presley, Kate Hepburn and Cary Grant are among those roasted. Inevitably, some of the humor is lame, such as the Marlene Dietrich takeoff. But given the volume, "Forbidden Hollywood," as directed by John Freedson, scores more hits than misses. It's here for an open run.

Dress-up

From page B13 what the costume is for. While some might be wearing their special outfits for a working event, others might have to have one just for fun. Choosing the right costume is essential.

"Some people have the misconception they can put on a great big animal head and go driving around," said Ferraro. She added this isn't the case.

Limitations also lie with how much the customer can spend on a costume. And some do it up real big, explain Ferraro.

When Halloween's over
After the biggest season of the year for costume shops, they keep operating with other things to offer.

J.J. Blinkers offers grab bag gifts for parties, unique novelty items. Santa suits and Easter Bunny outfits are also sold around those holidays.

At Center Stage there are gag gifts, magic items and Easter bunny and Santa Claus suits among other items.

Fantasy Festival offers makeup, magician's gear, and custom prosthetics for costume-wear and masks.

Ron and Bernice Ferraro have been involved in theater and formerly owned a carnival ride and game business.

Spend Christmas At Santa's Home

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

As a child, I always thought Santa lived at the North Pole. Kids in the rest of the world, however, believe the jolly bearded man in the red suit resides at the Korvatunturi Fell in the middle of Finnish Lapland. Since Santa's main means of transportation is reindeer, and there are a lot more of them in Lapland than the North Pole, I guess it makes sense.

So now that you know where Santa really lives, instead of waiting for him to visit you, why not spend Christmas at his place this year? Finnair has some really "cool" Christmas tour packages to get you there too.

How about this for a Christmas the family will never forget. December 22-Arrive at Kuusamo Airport in Finland, just south of the Arctic circle. After dinner at your cozy ski resort, a hostess explains the exciting holiday events ahead.

December 23 - After breakfast, it's off to reindeer country. You'll be provided with a thermo outfit to keep you warm on the reindeer sled trip over Ruka Mountain where you'll be met at his kota tent by a reindeer herder who will teach you Lapp skills such as reindeer driving and lassoing.

Later that day, back at the hotel, you can relax in the sauna while the kids are busy baking gingerbread cookies with the chef.

December 24-Start the day with a little cross-country skiing. For lunch, what else but rice pudding. Then it's time to hop aboard a sleigh and head out into the forest in search of a Christmas tree to decorate later at the hotel. Hot "glogg" keeps you warm for the ride back.

After dinner, you'll be treated to a local children's choir. Then, Santa himself arrives to deliver the presents, thankful that you saved him the trip to your house.

December 25 - After services at a quaint local church, bundle-up for a three-hour snowmobile safari to a log cabin in Petajaavaara.

December 26 - You're off to Kuusamo tropical spa for a dip in pools heated by underground hot springs. For the more adventurous, grab a snowmobile and take off to a frozen lake for a day of ice fishing and a picnic lunch sitting on reindeer skins around a campfire.

December 27 - it's time to head home with lifetime memories of a Christmas at Santa's place!

Nightmares of an inadequate housekeeper, or 'It Came From the Refrigerator'

It was nearly midnight and, despite the blinding glow from my freshly scrubbed, no-wax floor, I had dozed off over a bucket of water and Mr. Clean. As Whiskers, our cat, perched contentedly on the kitchen counter, quietly purring and chewing on the leftover chicken I had forgotten to put away from dinner, I napped unaware on the floor, my arm cradling Mr. Magic Mop, my head on the edge of the bucket. Just a few minutes of rest, I remembered thinking. Then I'll clean the refrigerator. Just want to close my eyes for a second...

I dreamed all the guests had arrived for the party. They walked in one by one, rubbing their white gloves over the stair railings and the tops of pictures. "No dust, here!" each one muttered. "She must have hired a service."

One of the guests looked in shock at the cat, who sat out of the way as everyone arrived, not tripping even one person. "I don't believe it," she said. "There's no litter box odor! I would have never guessed you have a filthy, disgusting, allergy-causing, flea-bearing animal. How do you do it?" I just smiled.

Another poor woman cried out in pain from the upstairs bathroom as she slipped right off the toilet and fell on the floor. "What did you do? WAX the seat?" Again, I just smiled.

My mother-in-law, the undisputed "Queen of Clean", arrived suddenly in a cloud of Eau du Pledge, and I watched her eyes as she scanned the room for a stray cat hair, a cobweb, or maybe the word "Mom" painted in Spaghettio sauce on the wall. Her face fell. Nothing. Not a thing. The sight of my house that clean practically rendered her speechless ("practically" is the key word here). "Am I in the right house?" she asked.

YES! I had done it. For once, my house had passed inspection. Everything clean and shiny, no dust, no smashed Cheetos under the couch cushions, no underwear on the bedposts...and then I watched my mother-in-law's hand reach for the refrigerator door. "Let me just put this pasta salad inside to keep it cool."

I began to scream. "NO, PLEASE! NOT THE REFRIGERATOR!! I FORGOT TO CLEAN THE ..." I found myself running to stop her, but I couldn't get any traction on that damn clean and shiny floor. It was too late!

She flung open the door and the refrigerator made a loud noise that sounded like a belch, and then started to hum (I think it was that song "U Can't Touch This"). My mother-in-law's hair turned white as she backed away slowly. She tripped over the cat, who had followed her to the refrigerator and gotten more than he bargained for, stopping dead in his tracks when he looked inside, the fur on his spine standing straight up.

"Give me a break, you two!" I said. "It can't be THAT bad! I just cleaned it ...well, let's see, was it June? No. Hmm...Easter that was it. No...turkey decorations are for Thanksgiving..."

Stepping over the cat and my mother-in-law, I peeked inside the refrigerator. Nearly gagging on the smell, I realized they were right. It WAS that bad!

The shelves were covered with aluminum foil covered plastic bowls, each one marked with a gravestone inscribed with things like "R.I.P., Leftover spaghetti, 1992" or "Eat Me—I'm a Bowl of Chili, September '94".

If that wasn't scary enough, there on the top shelf stood a horrible creature, its head made of spoiled lettuce from three months ago, eyes of shriveled grapes from who knows when, arms of withered carrots, a body that looked like a petrified orange that was oozing some sort of strange slime, and legs made of shriveled celery stalks.

"Who...who...who are YOU?" I said, trembling.

"Ha, ha, ha!" he cackled. "I'm the Crisper Keeper!!!"

Fine dining—as an art form

"The Art of Fine Dining" is a volume of 100 contributed recipes colorfully illustrated by Graham Rust.

The light-textured Glacé Lemon Sponge Cake can be a fitting finale to a hearty fall supper. It was contributed by Valerie Hobson, Hampshire, England.

Glacé Lemon Sponge Cake

8 T. unsalted butter at room temperature

6 oz. superfine sugar

2 large eggs

1 1/4 c. self-rising flour

Grated rind of 1 lemon

4 T. fresh lemon juice

For the lemon glacé icing:

3 T. confectioners sugar, sieved 3 T. fresh lemon juice

To garnish:

Icing/confectioners sugar

Whipped cream

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. In a bowl, cream the butter and sugar together. Add the eggs one at a time, beating continuously until the mixture is light and fluffy. Fold in the flour, grated rind and lemon juice and beat until smooth (add a few drops of water or more lemon juice, if necessary).

Pour the batter into the tin and bake for approximately 40 minutes or until golden brown (a toothpick inserted into the middle of the cake will come out clean when the cake is done).

Meanwhile, prepare the icing by mixing together, in a small bowl, the sugar and lemon juice until well combined. Pour the icing over the cake while it is still in the tin and hot from the oven. Let the cake cool in the tin on a rack.

Remove the cake from the tin, dust it with the sieved icing sugar and serve with generous amounts of whipped cream.—by TOM WITOM

'Jade' suspenseful but leaves big hole

The second vote is in on whether David Caruso will be cheered or jeered more for leaving his TV hit role in "NYPD Blues" to star in two movies for $4 million.

"Jade," a suspenseful, fast moving, rather dark murder mystery, with Caruso's name above the title, is a good film that could have been better.

Despite an excellent cast, the script and direction, though above average, do not reach a "Pulp Fiction" level.

Following "Kiss of Death," which drew Caruso critical acclaim, but bombed at the box office (though it's topping the video charts), "Jade" bodes to do much the same. Caruso is a very good actor who needs a top-notch script.

Caruso—sans about 20 pounds, which makes him look rather gaunt—is a low-paid but dedicated assistant DA whose best friends since college are famous attorney Chazz Palminterie and his wife Linda Fiorentino.

The flick starts out with the bloody crucifixion and ax murder of a very wealthy blackmailer, as it turns out. Compromising photographs of the Governor of California, played by Richard Crenna, indulging himself in sexual ecstasies with a "lady of the evening" are found at the murder scene.

Caruso's superiors want him off the case because of his connection with Fiorentino, who is an immediate suspect. He refuses, even though he knows he is still in love with her, despite the fact that she looks guiltier by the minute.

Kenny King, Angle Everhart and David Caruso

The plots moves at warp speed from situation to situation, barely touching on some just long enough to keep the audience interested.

The screen is ablaze every time Fiorentino is on it, indulging in the sexual escapades of her alter ego she has named Jade.

In a surprising and exciting ending, we finally think Caruso has caught the murderer, or has he?

There are great special effects, especially during a chase between Caruso and an unknown adversary in a "black all over" sports car.

Caruso hits the perfect tone of a lawman being sandwiched in-between his integrity and his feelings for Fiorentino, a smoldering sex symbol who out-seduces Sharon Stone and Madonna.

Because "Jade" is good, but not great, we are giving it four out of five stars on the strength of the performances. This film of course carries an R-Rating because of nudity, sex, violence and language.—by GLORIA DAVIS

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Stop being such a shrinking violet this week. For some reason, you need to bolster your self-confidence. Once this is done, be alert for a new opportunity which comes up in connection with your career.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You'll be glad to finally put aside that private worry which has been plaguing you recently. Listen closely to what a loved one is telling you concerning a financial matter. There's an opportunity waiting in the wings.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Nothing can stop you now as you seem to be sailing smooth waters toward the fulfillment of your goals. Some receive an intriguing job offer from a surprising source. Be wary of someone who would lie to you.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Tread lightly when it comes to financial matters, especially those of a mutual nature. Business partners don't see eye to eye until later in the week, so it's best not to press the issue. The weekend is not a good time for any gambling.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You are wise to doubt someone's word. This person has proven to be somewhat insincere in the past, despite having the best intentions. You need a bit of a lift later in the week, so make some plans for a sociable weekend.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You have the feeling now that someone is deliberately trying to mislead you and you're right. Play along with this and you'll find out the ultimate motivation behind it. An unexpected gift is delivered this weekend.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Anything of a financial nature should be avoided early in the week. You are not at your best and won't make prudent decisions. A friend has your head going in all different directions before you finally get to the bottom of things.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You seek new avenues of self-expression this week and could find yourself taking some courses toward that end. A close friend is revealing a side of himself that has gone unnoticed by you until now. Try not to be too disappointed.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Relationship problems are addressed early in the week and a satisfactory agreement results. On the job, you experience a big breakthrough toward the latter part of the week. Shed your inhibitions while socializing this weekend.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You finally seem to have a good handle on just how much you are capable of accomplishing. This causes you to expand your horizons and make big plans. Tread lightly this weekend when it comes to romantic matters.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Someone with whom you've been tempted to start a business deal really isn't all you think. Take a closer look before signing on the dotted line. Social circles widen this weekend.

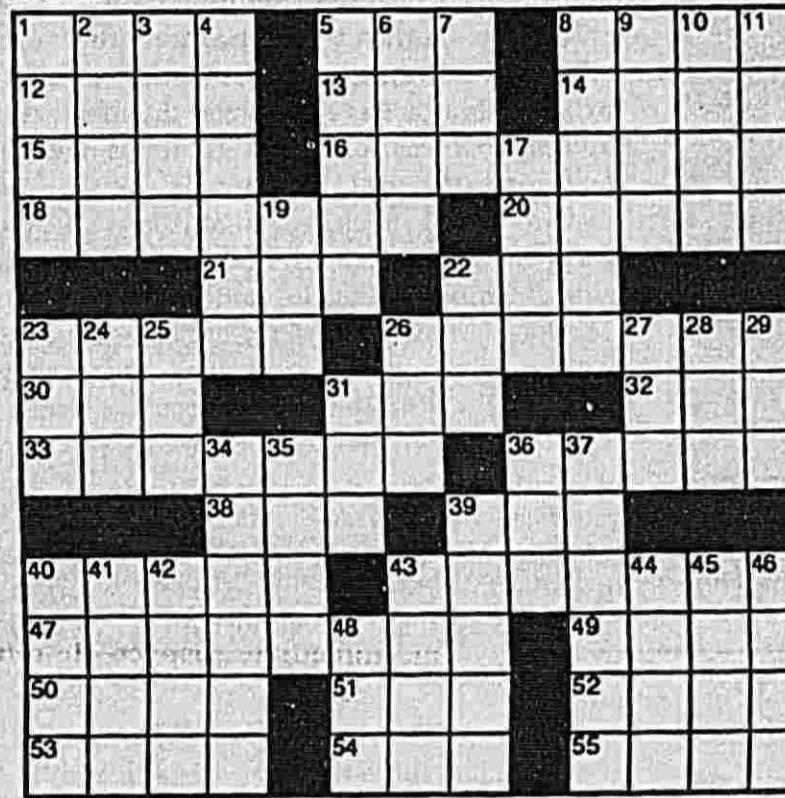

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Early in the week, you uncharacteristically let a certain confidence slip. You will regret this as the week progresses. Take steps to remedy the situation as soon as possible. Finances are looking good this weekend.

Upon completion of the course, trainees may elect to volunteer in a private home, a nursing home or in a specially equipped home-like Hospice House hospital unit. Additional education is available to the volunteers through VITAS sponsored conferences, workshops and inservices. For more information and registration call Shirley Kovach, director of volunteers, at 495-8484.

DiMarco's to reopen with casual look, affordable menu

DiMarco's Restaurant, located in downtown Antioch, has undergone a few changes to make the restaurant "better than ever," according to owner Donna DiMarco. The restaurant will officially introduce the public to the much-anticipated new look and affordable menu on Nov. 1.

Donna DiMarco has been joined by Gene Pontillo, owner of Luigi's of Hong Kong, forming a partnership whose goal is to make DiMarco's more casual and affordable. To commemorate the pairing, Donna DiMarco has added an Italian tag line to the name of the restaurant, "Trattoria di donaponti." "Trattoria di" means "eating place of," and "donaponti" is a mixture of each partner's name. DiMarco stated that she "has great expectations for this restaurant and for future business ventures."

Donna DiMarco emphasized that the only thing changing about the food diners have come to love are their prices. DiMarco has redesigned the menu to make it more affordable for patrons. Ala carte items have been added, as well as half orders of entrees for $4.50 and up. The restaurant still specializes in northern and southern Italian cuisine such as calamari, mussels marinara, Ravioli Alforno with shrimp, Formaggio, and Veal Venezia, a particularly delicious family recipe. A variety of pastries will be available for dessert, as well as cappuccino.

As for the atmosphere, DiMarco has given the restaurant a more casual ambiance. The bar area has been enlarged to accommodate more people, and Karaoke has been added on Friday and Saturday nights. It is Donna DiMarco's hope that with incorporating these changes, people will feel free to come to DiMarco's more often, in addition to those special occasions. To go along with that thought, look for an affordable, bountiful lunch buffet to be added in the near future.

It is Donna's prediction that along with the changes already made, there will be even more exciting things in the future diners can look forward to.

DiMarco's seats 110 and can accommodate banquets for special occasions and private parties for up to 130 people. Call 395-8883 for further information.

Visit DiMarco's, located at 833 Main Street in Antioch, open at 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, closed Mondays. Additional parking has been made available through the paved lot in the back of the restaurant.

Great dining at The Backyard Steak Pit

Sit back and relax in the Western Style, candlelit, casual dining atmosphere of the Backyard Steak Pit. Whether it is steaks or seafood, the chefs will prepare your meal to order. And, with the huge number of selections, even the fussiest eater will be delighted. Begin your meal with one of the "Startin' roundups." Topping the lineup is the onion loaf, which is sliced onions deep-fried into a block. Try the out-of-this-world homemade soups, prepared daily.

Backyard Steak Pit, a family owned restaurant since January 1985, is co-owned by Keith and Mike, who are particularly proud of both the steak and seafood entrees, which the restaurant specializes in. They also feature drink specials throughout the week.

The Backyard Steak Pit is home to colossal meals. Any hearty appetite will be satisfied with the colossal sirloin or colossal porterhouse, 32 ounces of top choice beef, or if seafood is your preference, the Backyard Steak Pit lobster tails are bigger than most, averaging 16 to 25 ounces.

All of their steaks are grilled on an authentic charcoal briquette grill. They hand cut top choice of prime beef daily to assure freshness and quality. Steak dinners start at $10.95, and include baked potato, salad bar, Texas or garlic toast.

Seafood lovers will be in paradise. The 10-ounce cold water lobster tail served with drawn butter is fresh from ship-to-shore, to you. The filet of cod fish is a loin cut steamed and also served with drawn butter. The menu includes red salmon filet, mahi mahi, and breaded shrimp.

Other treats on the menu include the corral combos. Combinations of lobster and steak, shrimp and steak, ribs and chicken, or ribs and steak. For lighter fare, try one of the grub on a slab sandwiches served with French fries, dill pickle spear, and cole slaw. Priced from $4.95 to $5.95, the sandwiches are a real deal. Children under 12 benefit from the children's menu, featuring a variety of delicious meals to choose from.

Wind up your meal with a homemade dessert. A dessert tray is offered to each table with over six selections to choose from. The Backyard Steak Pit has banquet facilities available for parties up to 70 people, with packages available.

The restaurant is open Monday through Thursday from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. On Fridays and Saturdays, from 4 to 11 p.m., and on Sundays from 4 to 9 p.m.. The restaurant is conveniently located on 1818 N. Protect the trees, our most valuable assets

A person with any type of landscape planting has an extremely valuable asset in trees. A three-inch diameter nursery tree, planted by a landscaper, could be between $500 to $1,000 dollars. A 30-year-old tree, a foot in diameter, is worth an absolute fortune.

Arborists are emphasizing fall root feedings, especially this year because 1995 has been very, very stressful, weather wise—extremely hot and humid. The tree is a photosynthetic factory which produces carbohydrates and proteins through photosynthesis, using the elements it gets from the soil.

Normally, a tree produces more than it needs and stores it—carbohydrates and proteins are stored for next year's spring startup.

Because of the high humidity and heat stress this year, trees have exhausted their supply, using everything to protect them against the weather stress. If it doesn't, the tree will be very weak and susceptible to diseases and insects, and possibly even die.

Even trees that appear healthy may not have the storage to come out next year and need to be root-fed so that the product can be easily assimilated by the tree in a natural, bio-organic form. In a forest setting, trees get natural protection in cooler soil. In a normal landscaped yard, all the litter used to cool the soil is removed—so its natural protection is gone.

Many people buy tree spikes to nourish the tree, but the tree's roots will avoid this concentrated salt fertilizer.

Root feeding is done by arborists and professional people with special equipment, which injects a nature-mimicking product down into the root zone of the tree.

Find a tree service that can mimic nature and provide plant food in that form. Find a company that can give your trees the complete "bread basket," the way it would get it in the natural setting. The tree instinctively knows what to do with the product when you provide it in the right form.

The problems of this season will show up next season as disease and invasion by insects. And all this because the tree doesn't have the strength to defend itself. As with people, if their defenses are down, they're going to get sick—and so would a tree.

We need to do everything we can to help trees stay strong. And it's imperative to do that now, before the ground freezes.—by Dave E. Ellis, co-founder, C.E.O., and chairman of the board for Bio-Green, Inc., which combines natural ingredients, lab tests, and customer computer analysis for tree and shrub care. BIO-GREEN'S FALL TREE CARE

The 1995 weather conditions have been unusually tough on trees. As a result, trees have been showing symptoms of stress throughout the entire season.

Because your trees are the most valuable asset to your property (next to your home), we strongly suggest that they be DEEP ROOT FED this fall so they come back strong and vibrant next spring.

Stone retaining walls are a natural choice

Stone retaining walls with plants cascading over the stone, and between the stones, are the most natural looking of all retention areas using a landscape material. They are also one of the hardest to build from a standpoint of material and labor.

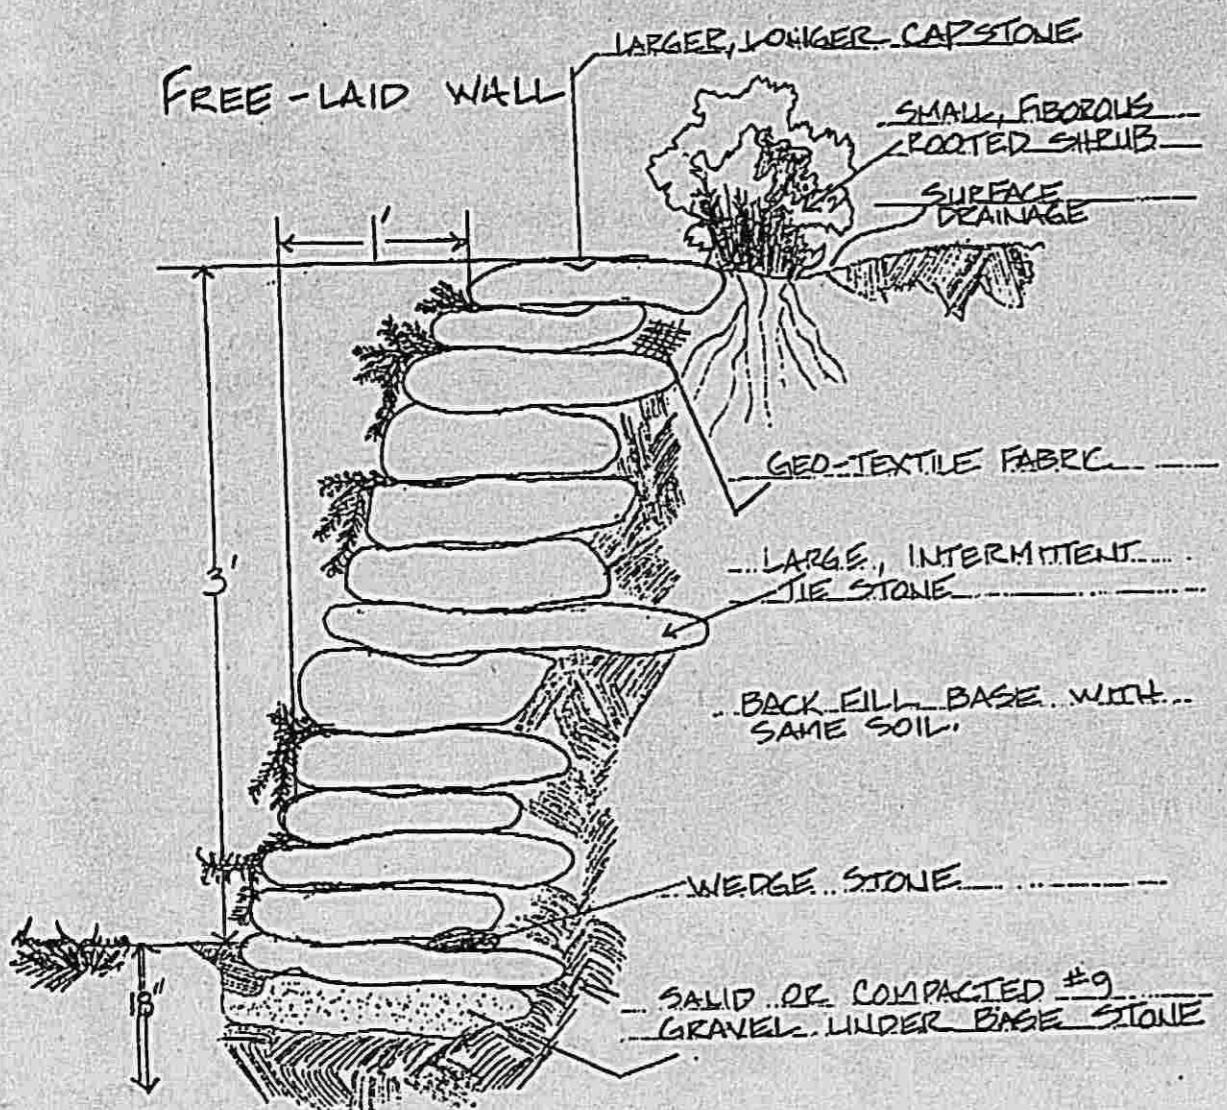

Stones should be wide and reasonably flat so that they will lay and fit together easily. The stones should be thick enough to prevent breaking during installation. The maximum height of a free-laid stone retaining wall should be near four-feet, and if more height is needed, then the wall should be terraced back and another begun. Try to use the same soil when backfilling behind the stone.

The tilt-back of a stone retaining wall is very important. There should be at least 12-inches of tilt per 48-inches of rise. Keeping the tilt back the same at each level makes the finished wall look great. Use geo-textile fabric to stuff the cracks between the stones to prevent erosion until the soil settles, which takes a year or more.

If plantings are to be used between the stones, increase the tilt-back, which will make the wall less steep and easier for the plants to get needed moisture and to cling to the wall (see sketch).—by Mike Gileco, landscape architect and owner of Mill Creek Nursery.

There's part of Lake County in each new Ford truck

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

When the all new 1997 Ford F-150 goes on sale nationwide Jan. 25, millions of dollars will pour back through Lake County.

With worldwide headquarters in Mundelein, MacLean-Fogg has a bigger stake in this new product than any other Ford in the past. That is saying a lot too, considering the manufacturing firm sold $30 million to Detroit automaker in 1994 alone. No less than 11 parts on the state-of-the-art vehicle come from MacLean-Fogg and its various manufacturing plants, including those in Wheeling, Richmond and Mundelein.

The company has come a long way since beginning in 1925 as a manufacturer of lock nuts for the railroad industry. The company still manufactures lock nuts, but vative product development and intelligent acquisitions, MacLean-Fogg Company pulls in $305 million in gross sales annually.

—Barry MacLean

The total sales make the company sound like a giant, but President and CEO Barry MacLean says one would not know that from touring any given plant.

"I don't believe that is the way to do it," MacLean said of sprawling factories with endless departmentalization.

Most of the MacLean-Fogg factories, which include others in Illinois and Wisconsin, employ between 150 and 200 people. That is the key to employee involvement and innovation, even though the sum total of the company's space exceeds one million square feet.

"We want the small company idea where everybody knows everybody," MacLean added.

MacLean Fog actually developed parts for the 1997 pickup, which was unveiled as part of a promotional tour that came through Mundelein earlier this month. MacLean said Ford's involvement with other companies in research and development is not unusual, "they're just the best at it." In MacLean's words, the result of the partnership is a vehicle with the most advanced suspension on the market.

Beyond the most advanced technology, it is the simple things that will bring the most money through Lake County. Maclean-Fogg developed a wheel fastener for the truck that is said to be a breakthrough, even though it looks like a simple spacer. There are five of them per wheel, four wheels per truck. Maclean-Fogg has the best selling truck for the last 13 years, the best selling vehicle in the world for the last eight and you get a proverbial gold mine.

This must all be very satisfying to a Lake County man whose first vehicle was a 1953 red Ford convertible.

"It is in my blood to love and breath Ford," MacLean said.

TINA L. SWIECH

Pete Petersen never knew he'd someday be cooking and serving up food to folks from miles around. Especially since he'd been out in the field all his life.

However, as one of the owners of Bobby's Barrel Inn restaurant and bar, his background makes work around the place a piece of cake. With a business not familiar to them, somehow the Petersen's seemed to take a liking to it. Even mom now likes to whip up her favorite dishes—a person who didn't enjoy making lunches and bringing them out to the field every day.

For Petersen, the move to the restaurant was like "sitting behind a combine in the middle of a 100-acre field, to going behind a bar in one night." Petersen left the farm life when he was 25.

Petersen, born and raised in Volo, ironically came back to his birth-town a dozen years ago when he bought the business with his sister Kandee and his mom, Loretta. His dad Bob, at the age of 70 still plants grain on the 2,000 acre Donnelley Estates in Libertyville, where he and his sons have all worked for a number of years.

When the business was purchased by the Petersen's, the site was a small bar which sold a few food items. Petersen said the former owners were short lived, and the business was not particularly successful. It took a great deal of work had to create Bobby's Barrel Inn, explained Petersen. He said he gives much of the credit to his sister. Kandee has been in the restaurant business since she was a teenager, and knew the ins and outs quite well.

Now the former farm family boasts hundreds of patrons each weekend for their famous Friday night beer-battered fish fry. Bobby's also has its fish fry on Wednesday nights too, due to popular demand. For the past five years, breakfast has been served there, from Tuesday through Sunday mornings. From Tuesday to Saturday the business is opened at 5 a.m. offering omelets and other specials to start the day.

While Petersen may be villages away from where he once See BARREL INN page C2

Grayslake trainer creates 'One Stop for Fitness'

Walk into The Fit Stop and you'll find not only rows of home state-of-the-art fitness equipment, everything to work your triceps, biceps, quads, and muscle groups you may have never heard of, but you'll also find the Lifestyle Center, an area dedicated to helping people battle their bulges and improve their physical well-being. This combination is the first of its kind anywhere, a complete personal training center and a place to purchase the highest quality home equipment.

The brainchild of Grayslake resident Mike Uretz, a pioneer in the home exercise equipment field, The Fit Stop opened in 1989 as the first shop of its kind in the area located on Waukegan Road near Lake-Cook. The adjacent Lifestyle Center became a reality.

Now, he not only carries a variety of innovative equipment which includes a stationary bike outfitted with a Nintendo hook-up, allowing riders to participate in on-screen bicycle races and heart rate controlled exercise machines, he and his staff of three exercise physiologists also work personally with people to establish an education and training program. Services include body composition analysis, fitness testing, cardiac risk analysis, personal training and weight management programs. The Fit Stop/Lifestyle Center is part of a referral network for local physicians due, in part, to the qualifications of the staff members.

Uretz was a successful, but out-of-shape computer consultant in the early 1980's when he took an aerobics class that changed his life and career. He began teaching fitness at the East Bank Club, for private corporations and at local hospitals. Wanting to understand the retail side of the fitness business, he took a job in an exercise equipment store. He quickly learned that the equipment business was staffed largely by untrained non-professionals and set out to supply the education that customers deserve.

Uretz and his staff work with clients in the Lifestyle Center. Each trainer has completed or is working on their masters degree in exercise physiology which Uretz says sets him apart from other health clubs where anyone can call themselves a personal trainer.

"When you're young," Uretz says, "your body can handle a lot of things that you can't at 40 or 50. You need someone who understands how the body works and who isn't pushing you beyond your limit."

Despite the publicity about weight training's role in the prevention of osteoporosis, the people who would reap the most benefits, menopausal women and middle aged men, are not taking advantage of the medical findings.

As the population of America ages, the benefits of working out with weights become more apparent as a way to ward off chronic aging problems like high blood pressure, adult on-set diabetes, and decreased flexibility. "All of these difficulties are preventable with a good fitness plan," says Ken Ospelt, one of The Fit Stop's trainers. "Strength training makes daily living easier. It can preserve an individual's independence as they age," he adds.

walked beans during the summer and harvested corn in the fall, he did bring a little of the farm back with him. The restaurant is lined with hundred-year-old barn boards throughout, bringing a warm, country atmosphere to the fast growing location.

During the interview, Petersen served up large portions of golden brown, beer-battered cod with all the little extras. It was pleasing to say the least. And when he brought out some homemade carrot cake, moist with cream cheese frosting dripping down the sides, you'd think you'd died and gone to heaven.

But the peach cobbler served warm in a banana split dish with a large dollop of vanilla ice cream melting into the center was the piece de la resistance! Wondering just how many grandmas he had slaving away in the kitchen wouldn't have been an inappropriate thing to ask at that point.

Petersen said he employs fifteen people. When describing the restaurants popularity, he's modest about including himself. "You're only as good as the people who work for you," he said.

His wife Michelle helps out in the restaurant too, and the couple lives right upstairs.

The restaurateur explained at least he's making a steady living now. Farms today are dwindling and hard to maintain, said Petersen. He quipped with a smile, "It's a great business to have that (farm) background—to go on long hours and low pay!" By the way, the business is named after his father Bob, and Pete and his brothers. Bob and Loretta named three of their four sons "Robert" but they go by their middle names, Pete, Scott and Bradley. Their other son Thomas ironically uses the name "Bob."

Loretta said the name issue is a big part of conversation at Bobby's Barrel Inn.

HIGHLAND PARK—Internet browsers worldwide can request physician information, check managed care plans, sign up for a newsletter, review information on women's health and other issues, or learn about Highland Park Hospital's famed fertility team by visiting the medical center's newly launched home page. Those are a few of the activities available to visitors of the hospital's site on the World Wide Web, the commercial area of the information superhighway. Term insurance rates are going down

ALAN NADOLNA

Level premium term insurance is an extremely important element in financial planning. Over the years, term insurance products have been developed to provide coverage for all ages for specific periods of time at extremely competitive rates. As Americans have changed their habits as to smoking and exercise, companies have recognized this, and consistently lowered rates.

The result has been that critical life insurance coverage has been available at all ages at premiums affordable for nearly everyone.

Like any consistently improving situation, there comes a time when "all good things tend to end." The National Association of Insurance Commissioners has approved a modal regulation that will force many companies offering individual policies to meet higher reserve requirements.

In plain English, this means that premiums will increase. The most competitive term policies will be affected most significantly by this new regulation.

Each state must adopt the regulation, but there is no reason to believe that any state will not, as insurance commissioners of each state have already indicated their approval. It has been made clear their plan is to implement the NAIC regulation.

All of the above represents the bad news in a bad news—good news scenario. The good news is that bargain rates for term insurance coverage are not only still available but a number of products have lowered premiums in order to capture significant business. One particularly high rated carrier is offering coverage of up to $500,000 without medical examinations or blood tests if coverage has been obtained on a favorable basis in the last three years.

The current group of quality term products provides guaranteed term premiums for five, 10, 15 and 20 years. Premiums remain level during that period and low rates can be renewed for subsequent periods so long as the insured is still in good health.

As the general state of health is improved, insurers have discovered they can profitably issue multi-year term policies on individual levels into their 70's.

The message here is simple: the next few months represent the best time to review your life insurance needs, whether it be replacing expensive outmoded policies or adding to valuable life insurance protection.

As always, care must be exercised in selecting carriers and in understanding all of the conditions of each proposed term insurance contract.

For a list of recommended products and insurance carriers and illustrations showing the most competitive products at various ages and amounts, call Associates at 509-5090 or (800)428-9786, or write to Suite 308A, 633 Skokie Blvd., Northbrook, IL 60062.

Editor's note: Alan Nadolna is a consultant to financial service organizations and is a financial advisor to corporations and individuals. He is a member of a panel of financial experts preparing This Way To Wealth. Questions are invited by writing to Nadolna at Associates in Financial Planning, 633 Skokie Blvd., Suite 308A, Northbrook, IL 60062 or call (800)428-9786 or 509-5090.

Mortgage interest deduction is key to homeownership

For the greater part of this century, the mortgage interest deduction has been an integral part of America's economic and social systems, promoting homeownership and helping to bring its many benefits to families who otherwise might never have owned a home.

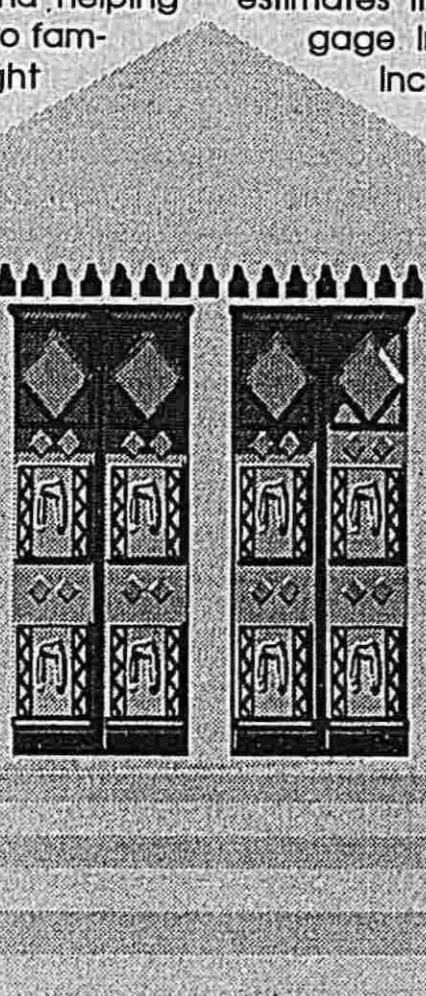

As Congress searches for ways to raise revenue and tame the deficit monster, the mortgage interest deduction is in jeopardy.

A number of proposals, ranging from completely eliminating the mortgage interest deduction to limiting it to a fixed amount—such as the interest on a $300,000 or $250,000 mortgage—have been proposed and are under consideration on Capitol Hill.

And even though it appears unlikely that Congress will address the issue before 1997, it's certainly not too early for smart consumers to start examining the issue and urging members of Congress to retain the mortgage interest deduction as the cornerstone of America's housing policy.

The Congressional Budget Office estimates that eliminating the mortgage interest deduction would increase federal revenue by $313 billion over five years.

Almost $35 billion would be raised over five years by reducing the amount eligible for deduction to $300,000.

Capping the deduction at $12,000 for a single return, and $20,000 for a joint return and for married couples filing separately, would raise $52.4 billion over five years.

Eliminating the interest deduction on second homes would raise $3.2 billion.

At first glance, those are somewhat impressive numbers, but they don't acknowledge the profound effects that such changes would have on the economy and the American people.

First, it is unlikely that capping the deduction would raise the revenues the budget office anticipates. Any shift in tax policy is sure to trigger changes in debt and investment patterns.

Wealthy people will either pay down or pay off their mortgages, depriving the Treasury of taxes on the earnings of financial assets liquidated to pay down debt. Those left holding the increased tax bag would be the middle-income home buyers who have stretched their resources to the limit.

More importantly, eliminating or capping the mortgage interest deduction would cause property values to plummet.

A recent study by DRI-McGraw Hill, a consulting and information firm, found that a flat tax that eliminates the deductions for mortgage interest and property taxes would cause America's 62 million home owners to lose an estimated $1.7 trillion in home equity within one year and would have serious negative implications for the nation's economy.

The DRI analysis found that average home owners would lose 15 percent of their home's value.

Housing starts would drop by 22 percent in the year that the tax was imposed, and existing home sales would drop by 19 percent.

Construction unemployment would soar, and the economy could be disrupted to the point that a recession would be inevitable.

Furthermore, the 15 percent figure is an average. Some home owners—particularly those who own high-cost homes or who live in areas with high property taxes—could see their home equity drop by much more than 15 percent.

And even though starts and sales would eventually return to close-to-baseline levels, the loss of home equity would be permanent, not temporary.

Such a decline in property values would devastate the economy and individual home owners. Mortgage loan defaults and foreclosures would surge, some families would lose their homes, and financial institutions would suffer heavy losses. Furthermore, the property tax bases of local governments nationwide would be harmed, and property tax rates would rise.

Many people believe that Congress will never tamper with the mortgage interest deduction because it is an integral part of the nation's social and economic systems.

But the deduction is no longer sacrosanct. Several years ago, Congress capped the amount eligible for interest deduction. It can, and may, further limit or eliminate it. The threat is very real.

America's home builders support the mortgage interest deduction and urge all home owners—and potential home owners—to do the same. Homeownership not only provides a place to live and measure of financial security; it strengthens the nation's communities, encourages participation in the political process, and provides a sense of security to America's families.

We cannot afford to let it slip away.—by WILLIAM MAYBROOK, president Home Builders Assn. of Greater Chicago

Investment tips for single parents

When it comes to investing, single parents share basically the same concerns with two-parent families. They want to provide opportunities—especially educational opportunities—for their children, and they want their own retirement to be comfortable.

Single parents, however, face many unique challenges, especially financial challenges. Although many single parents don't earn as high an income as two working parents, one of the biggest mistakes a single parent, or anyone for that matter, can make is to assume that there are no options for building a better financial future.

A single parent can establish a basic investment plan. Assume a single mother who is 35-years-old has one child, a 6-year-old son. She hopes her son will enter college at age 18, and while she knows she won't be able to finance his entire college education, she would like to make a contribution.

If this parent could invest just $50 a month and that investment could compound at 8 percent annually, she would accumulate between $12,000 and $13,000 by the time her son enters college.

Although that wouldn't cover his entire college expenses, with student loans and her son working to pay some of his own bills, it would be a big help.

One of the biggest investment mistakes made by both single parents and two-parent families is putting their children's financial future before their own. Many parents delay investing for their retirement and wait for "the perfect time" to invest. This is usually some landmark event, such as paying off the car or home, changing jobs, or the children leaving home.

Unfortunately, there are two problems with this approach. First, people often adopt goals that take years to achieve, or worse, once they achieve their goals, they simply replace them with others, such as taking that dream vacation. The other problem with this approach is that waiting to invest costs you money.

If the 35-year-old mother waits until her son enters college to start investing $50 a month in an Individual Retirement Account earning 8 percent annually, she'll have accumulated less than $25,000 when she turns 65.

If, however, she starts investing now and invests $50 a month in an IRA earning 8 percent annually, she'll accumulate more than $73,000 by the time she reaches age 65. That's $48,000 more than if she waits. In addition, she may qualify for fully or partially tax-deductible IRA contributions, and she doesn't have to pay taxes on the earnings on her IRA until she withdraws them at retirement.

Although the rates and time periods in the example above aren't intended to reflect the performance of any specific investment, they do illustrate the importance of starting an investment plan early and sticking with it.—by NOAH A. SEIDENBERG, Edward D. Jones and Co.

Uncle Sam's last grab—a contract on your capital

NICK J. BROWN

You have worked diligently all these years and paid numerous taxes—income tax, property tax, capital gains tax, excise tax, duties and sales taxes of many kinds. Now you look back on the satisfying years of raising your family and accumulating capital for your retirement.

But Uncle Sam is watching! He is like a trapper that has only to wait and eventually enact the last grab—the capital tax commonly known as federal estate taxes.

The total amount collected by these taxes would run the entire United States government for no more than six days of the year. This, however, is a politically sensitive item and important to anyone who has a home, a business, and investments.

You may lose up to 15 or 20 years of the accumulations of your working life if proper planning is not done. The top marginal rate on these taxes can go as high as 60 percent and even in a modest estate can take a substantial portion of your capital.

A newspaper article noted that an estate owner had died leaving a tax burden of $5,600,000 of federal estate taxes. The article asks, "Do you think this took the U.S. government two minutes, two hours, or two days to spend this as part of the annual budget?" The answer was half of an entire lifetime's accumulation was spent by the government in only two minutes. This should not happen to you!

Your strategy

Through proper planning now you can minimize these taxes and provide for your estate to remain whole and undiminished by the eventual tax burden. The strategy is to try to retain for your family and for charities at your direction, everything you have accumulated during your lifetime.

Your tactics should be as follows:

1. Put together a financial statement listing all of your assets and how they are titled, whether they are in your name, your spouse's name, or some type of joint ownership.

2. Assemble your important financial documents such as current security statements, titles to real estate, wills, and life insurance policies. Review these documents with your estate reduction team consisting of your attorney, CPA, financial planner and life insurance agent.

3. Take some action! Get involved in this process. If you do nothing, you will have the gratitude of many government employees as well as Uncle Sam himself. They may spend months and even years appraising, tabulating, and eventually taking a substantial portion of your assets. By taking definite action now, you can minimize this eventual drain of your assets.

Taking this action is the proper gratitude and respect for your many years of hard work and good financial decision. Remember Uncle Sam is not robbing for you. Uncle Sam is hoping that you do not do this planning.

No matter what your taxes are, they will be but a drop of water in the ocean of government spending. Up to half of your entire assets will be spent by the government in a few minutes.

Take some action now to preserve what you have built for your family and the charities that you support.

Editor's note: Nick J. Brown is president of The Planning Group, Glenview, which is a financial planning and consulting firm that counsels individuals and businesses in all 50 states. Questions are invited by writing or call Nick Brown at 1247 Waukegan Rd., Glenview, IL 60025 or at 998-1640.

Keeping expense records during year

These are typical questions asked by taxpayers to the IRS.

Q. What records should I keep?

A. You should keep all receipts, canceled checks or other proof of payment, and documentation to support any deductions or credits you claim. If you file a claim for a refund, you must be able to prove by your records that you have overpaid your tax.

Q. How long should I keep my records?

A. Keep records that support an item of income or a deduction appearing on your return until the statute of limitations runs out. Usually, this is three years from the date the return was filed or two years from the date the tax was paid whichever is later. But keep records that show the basis of property as long as you own the property or the replacement property.

Q. Should I keep copies of my returns?

A. You should keep copies of tax returns you filed. If you need to correct your return you will need a copy of the original return that you are correcting or amending.

Q. How do I amend my tax return?

A. Use Form 1040X, "Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return" to correct the Form 1040, Form 1040A, or Form 1040EX, you already filed.

You should correct your return if you did not report some income, or you claimed some credits or deductions you should not have claimed, or you should have claimed a different filing status.

Sedgewood opens second phase

LINDENHURST—The grand opening for phase II at the Sedgewood Cove community in Lindenhurst is set for Oct. 28. Phase II will introduce two brand new model homes and a new and improved model of the best-selling home from phase I, creating seven models with three elevations each. Located on the shores of Crooked Lake, Sedgewood Cove is a recreational community being developed by Northbrook-based Red Seal Development Corp. The community includes 134 single-family homes. Many of the homes neighbor a nature preserve, which features groves of mature oak and hickory trees. In all, about 85 percent of Sedgewood Cove's 76 acres is being maintained as open space.

Developer building 'celebration'

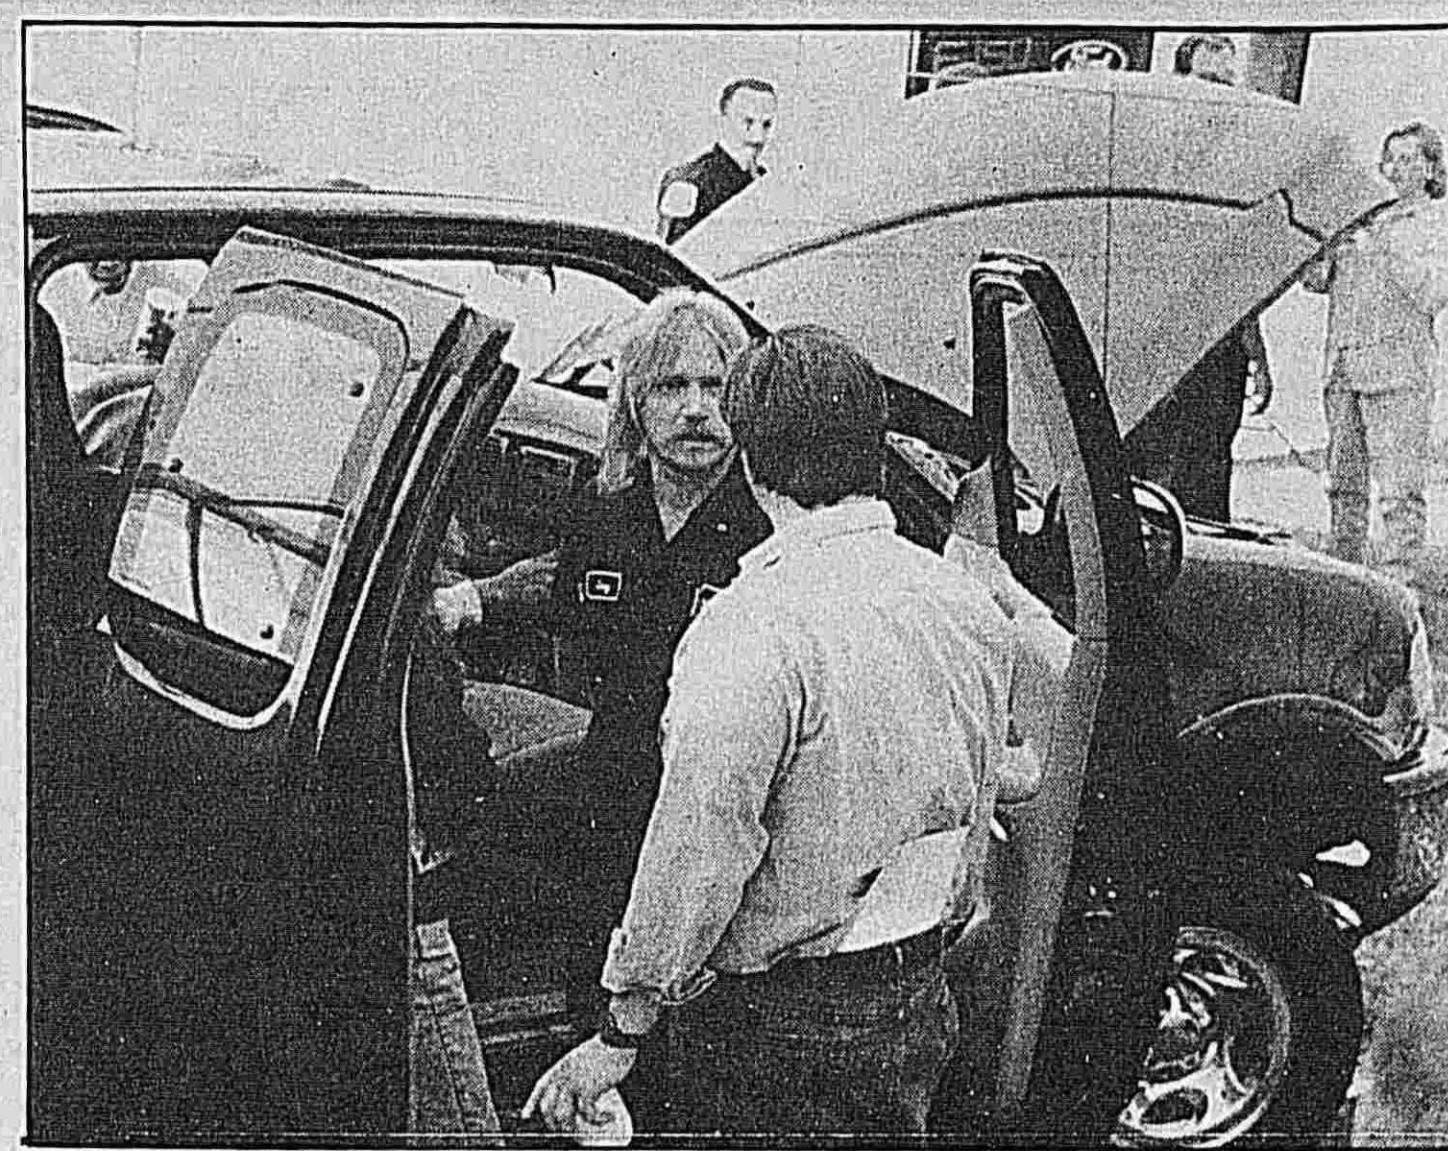

OAK BROOK—Town and Country Homes, a Chicago area home builder, has been named a featured builder at Celebration, a new town being developed near Orlando by The Celebration Company, a subsidiary of The Walt Disney Co.

Town and Country Homes is one of only two national builders—in addition to eight Orlando-area custom home firms—chosen to develop the anticipated 8,000 residential units at Celebration. The town will be located on approximately 4,900 acres near Orlando in northwest Osceola County.

Town and Country and David Weekly Homes of Houston, Texas, were selected by The Celebration Company after a rigorous search and review process involving a number of builders nationwide. This is the Oak Brook-based company's first project in Florida and second foray outside of the Chicago area following last year's entry into Minneapolis.

Peter Rummell, president of Disney Design and Development, rekindled the late Walt Disney's dream of building a real town, when he proposed the Celebration project nine years ago. Since then the project has had the encouragement and active involvement of Michael Eisner, Disney's chairman.

The residential units will be clustered around a classic "small town downtown" area with a post office and businesses, such as a bank, cinema, grocery store and restaurant. Many of the retail, apartment and office buildings planned will be built along a wide lakeside promenade.

Gurnee Mills anchor store gets "Incredible Universe"

Gurnee officials are pleased with a replacement of an anchor store at Gurnee Mills Mall. The anchor will be a new concept store called Incredible Universe, owned by Tandy Corporation.

Some 400 jobs are expected to be created when the store opens.

The store replaces the current Filene's Basement

Tandy's Incredible Universe features appliances of hundreds of varieties and a recreational virtual reality concept.

"It is pretty exciting for us," said Gurnee administrator Jim Haynor.

Sometimes an old-fashioned song

Brings us a thought of you;

Sometimes a flower as we pass along,

Or a sky that is azure blue;

Or a silver lining in the clouds,

When the sun is peeping through.

All of these things, make us think of you.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS

for kids and parents alike.
You can make sure it's a safe Halloween for your children by remembering these simple safety tips.

- When walking from house to house, always stay in well-lit areas. Don't take shortcuts through alleys or people's yards.
- Be sure to dress according to weather conditions. And you may want to bring an umbrella in case of rain.
- Ask your parents to check with the local hospital or health clinic about x-raying your candy.
- Only take candy that has been individually wrapped. Avoid homemade treats unless you know the people giving it.
- Remind your parents to slow down the car in residential areas and to watch for children!
- Be sure your porch light is on when welcoming trick-or-treaters.
- Help your parents prepare for trick-or-treaters by keeping dogs and cats away from the front door.
- When you get home, don't eat all of your goodies at once. If you do you will probably get a stomach ache!
- Look out for your friends and neighbors. If they need help or get lost, have them join your group.
- Keep track of the time. You need to return home at the time set by your Mom and Dad.
- Always take a flashlight along with you when you trick-or-treat. And be sure to test the batteries or get new ones before you head out.
- Never light your Jack-O-Lantern without your parents' help. You may want to use small flashlights instead of candles.
- Be careful around neighborhood pets such as dogs. Although they may know you, your costume might scare or confuse them.
- Don't accept rides back home from people you don't know. Only ride with your parents or use arranged transportation.
- Never ride your bike when you trick-or-treat. You may easily lose your balance or strike an object in the dark.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: Please tell me if you can offer any suggestions to this situation. I have been a stay at home mom of two kids who are now 11 and 12 years of age. I married out of high school and therefore the only jobs I have had have been in the area of fast food. I do not see returning to that type of work and am trying to think of other things that I can do outside the home to both occupy my time and increase our household income. I do not have any office experience and am told very few companies are willing to train for a job. I have never worked on a computer so that as I am told really hurts my chances for office work as well. Over the past eight years in the home, I have developed great organizational skills, can run a household better than anyone I know and have taken up what is now a seven year hobby of weaving my own baskets for presents for family and friends and what is called ragging and stenciling which are decorating processes for walls. I am not looking for a job as a rocket scientist or an executive by any stretch of the imagination. I am looking to enjoy what I do and am having a difficult time turning anything that I do well into a useable skill outside of the home. Please if you can tell me what your suggestions would be. Perhaps you could print this for the many others as myself who could benefit from your advise. Thank you. P.R.T.-Lake Bluff

A: Dear P.R.T.: There is something for everyone out there. Yes, it is true that many companies expect you to have skills when entering a position within an office setting. Your skills may be more than you think; however, if you possess fine telephone skills for a receptionist or have worked a fax machine or copier, (which usually translates in to pressing a button or two). Your organizational skills may be just the thing for a busy executive unable to handle tasks outside the office or special projects. You sound like quite the talented individual who could offer more than you realize. Many people have made the comment to me over the years that they are returning to the workforce without any skills. Everyone has a skill or two that they may not realize they can parlay into their own business or into a work setting with a company. For instance, with your talent for basket weaving and stenciling and such, you're saying to me you are a creative individual who enjoys sharing your talent. Why not contact several park districts who offer programs throughout the year and ask if they would be interested in having you teach a class a few days or nights per week to share your talents with others. What could be better than being paid for something you love to do. You will quite often find that park district facilities are always looking for new programs or for good people with such talents to teach others. You need not single yourself out to only one location...contact several and build your own schedule. Senior centers are another entity to try. You may find that the things you love to do is also filling a void in someone else's day...teaching them something they always wanted to learn, and...you're making money doing it. Good luck!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

VARDELL

The country style Vardell is a 3182 square foot home built for a growing family that requires lots of living space. The two-car garage is placed at the rear of the property, allowing the beauty of the Vardell to shine through. A wraparound porch, covered and railed, accents the attractive wood and brick exterior.

Directly inside the vaulted entry are a closet and a half-bath for the convenience of your guests. To the right of the entry are two good-sized bedrooms. Each is fitted with a skylit private bathroom, and closet space is ample. Separating the two bedrooms, is a small home office. There is room here for a personal computer to maintain household accounts and serve school age children working on class assignments.

Across the hall, maintaining privacy but still near enough to check on the young ones, is the luxurious master suite. In addition to the huge sleeping area, there is a long standard closet and two walk-ins. Other amenities include linen storage and a private skylit bathroom, with twin basins and a raised spa for soothing relaxation after a long day.

The vaulted family room, with double skylights, opens onto a large screened porch. Summertime will find the whole gang out here with a pitcher of lemonade, enjoying the coolness of the evening. An adjacent deck is a good spot to set up the barbecue and grill some hamburgers.

The spacious skylit kitchen will be a favorite with the cook in the house. Meals may be prepared and easily served at the corner breakfast nook or in the adjoining dining room. There is also a nice garden window and door to the deck.

Conveniently placed next to the kitchen is a generous utility room. Besides the washer and dryer, there is a freezer and extra refrigerator. A skylight brightens the entire area.

At the front of the Vardell, and affording an excellent view, is the vaulted living room. This is the ideal spot for catching up on your reading or just taking a few quiet moments for yourself.

For a study kit of the VARDELL (402-60), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

NATURE'S BOUNTY

Pear-Apple Crisp

4 medium apples
4 medium pears
1 Tbl. white sugar or brown sugar
1 to 2 tsp. lemon juice

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Peel the fruit and slice it thinly. Toss it with the sugar and lemon juice; then lay it in a 9- or 10-inch pie plate, or similarly sized earthenware or porcelain gratin dish. Cover the fruit with the crisp topping and bake it for 30 minutes, or until the top is nicely browned and the apples are cooked. Serve with cream whisked just enough to thicken it slightly, and flavored, if you like, with amaretto, or with the Cinnamon Creme Anglaise.

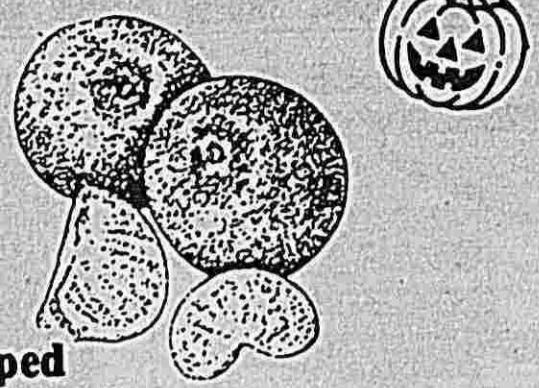

Apple fritters

1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1 tsp. oil
1 apple, peeled and chopped oil for deep frying

Blend flour, baking powder and salt; add eggs, milk and 1 teaspoon oil. Beat until smooth, add apple and mix. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry until light golden in color, drain from oil. Roll in confectioners sugar or put some cinnamon in a little pancake syrup and heat. Pour over fritters.

MIA commissioners

Mayor Vassels, it's 7:30 p.m. on the first Wednesday in October. Do you know where your plan commission is? Neither did the throng of residents who attended a scheduled meeting only to find an excessive number of commissioners missing in action.

No name change

I'm just calling to say that I think whoever wrote about Big Hollow School in Lipservice before is confused. They're not going to change the name of the Big Hollow School Dist., they're only changing the name of the middle school, one of two buildings the district owns. The middle school will be called Edwin J. Travem School, but the district will still be Big Hollow.

We should leave

I'm a student at Antioch High School and I believe the person who called before is correct, we should be able to leave campus for lunch. How many people are going to ditch if they have the privilege of leaving for lunch?

Don't judge

I'm calling from the Round Lake area. My children have been attending Calvary Christian school for many years. It's a great school and I feel fortunate they've been able to attend. I know many of the teachers personally. To the person who called in saying some of the teachers are hypocrites, I would advise you to read Romans 2:1, which says: "You have no excuse, you who pass judgment on someone else, for at whatever point you judge the other, you are condemning yourself because you who pass judgment do the same things." Pause and think on that.

No loyalty

I'm from Wauconda and this is to the residents of Dist. 118. Cynthia Petraitis has been on the school board for 17 years and this fall she enrolled her child as a freshman in Carmel High School. What right does she have making decisions for our Dist. 118 students, when she obviously feels it isn't good enough for her child? Don't get me wrong, Carmel is an excellent school, but something is ethically and morally wrong about this. She said she's on the board to improve the quality of education, so what's she been doing for the past 17 years?

Use village funds

Lake Zurich or Lake Sewer? Mayor Vassels, Gary Winchester, and Karen Demos Rosenthal would like to see the sewer. Why else would they turn down a proposal to dredge the lake? Their excuse is why use village funds to dredge a private lake? Private for who? Everyone who lives here has the opportunity to use the lake. Why not use village funds? The Condo Association and the Lions Club are willing to do their share, but not these three. They'll sell us out to developers who want to build hotels on the lake. How many people will want to stay in a hotel or walk along a boardwalk of a lake that smells and is polluted? Wake up, people. The Lake County Board of Health says that dredging a lake makes it healthier. Let's not lose our precious lake to the selfishness of these people, who put politics and infighting ahead of what's best for our village. Let your voices be heard when they're up for reelection. Then they'll get the message.

Correction

A correction to the message called 'Accidents happen.' I'm looking for a white van, not a white man. Anyone with information, please call Lipservice.

Donna's great

I'm calling about Donna Abear. I understand there's pro and con concerning her. I want to tell you she's great. I'm not a senior citizen, I'm thirty-something. However, I think Donna says what all moms, especially working moms feel. If you don't like her, don't read her. But don't trash her, and certainly don't get rid of her. Leave her as she is. She's wonderful. Thanks, Donna. Keep up the great work!

A survivor

I'm from Wauconda and this is to the class of 1982 of St. Ann School in Barrington. I clearly remember what you and others did to me. I will not forget all it's done to me and has affected me well into my 20s. I believe you know who you are. I'll never be able to wash away the emotional and physical scars, as well as the medical bills. You have not won my whole life. To the parents of these children who found it amusing that my parents abused me, you truly have a lot to learn about respect, decency, and responsibility. You all lost, because I survived.

Right on

I'm from Grayslake and want to say that the caller on Oct. 13 who said let's solve the problem is absolutely right on. We have a gross problem in our Woodland and Warren High School district. The people of the community must vote yes and take responsibility and do what's right for the children. We are running out of space and must be able to house all the students. The developers went wild and built up these areas. Let's not punish the children. They're our future. Let's fix the problem and quit whining for our own selfish reasons.

Stick 'em up

A piece of campaign literature was just placed in my front door by a Dist. 116 schoolteacher, who's asking me to vote for their write-in candidate so they won't go on strike again. I'm sure the teachers' hand-picked candidates are ready to give them everything they want, like more days off with pay, greater benefits, and maybe a 10 percent raise. That would truly rob my child and yours of a quality education.

Close it down

With all the trouble that goes on with at a local night club, you'd think that the Antioch Village Board would find a way to close down the club or at least come up with an idea to control the stuff that goes on. All you have to do is read police beat to know what goes on there. I truly feel sorry for the people who have to live around there. For the construction builders who are building more places, I'd never live there and I'm sure a lot of other people won't. Close the place down. It's bad news.

Challenge is good

Reading the Oct. 13 issue, it was strange to see Rep. John Porter praising the reforms that recently passed through Congress. After all, Porter voted against most of those reforms, including term limits, property rights, and even the $500 per child tax credit. So I'm glad to see that, in the same issue, my fellow Lake Forester, Richard Renaldo, will be challenging Porter in the upcoming Republican primary.

World not for man

In response to the 'World is for man,' the world is not for man, it's for every creature on the planet. And as for being created for man by God, I've got one word for you—evolution. You can't prove anything was created for man, don't give me that. As far as your thinking that man can do whatever and do a good job, they've been doing a great job so far with species disappearing left and right and trash everywhere. This world is going to hell and who's to blame? Man! Take a hike!

Garbage in and out

That's the result of the O.J. trial. I think it's time the American justice system is completely revamped. I think we should shut the entire court system down until we can get a good and effective legal system, so we can stop releasing criminals and prosecuting and imprisoning the innocent.

Shame on you

'Watch out, parents' highlights again the irresponsibility of the Lipservice column. The caller warned that some teachers at Calvary Christian School aren't Christians, but hypocrites. My name is Larry Thompson and I just completed nine months of interim pastor at Calvary Christian Center Church. The two absolutely fundamental requirements to teach at CCC are: a born-again experience with the Lord, Jesus Christ, and proven qualifications as an educator. CCC has qualified and dedicated leadership to administer the academic social and spiritual growth of students. Occasionally, a student fails to meet the minimum requirements established to accomplish this growth. All too often, parents refuse to accept responsibility to help their child by choosing to blame the school or teacher when correction is required. I suspect the caller may be one of those parents. However, since he or she did not follow Biblical standards for resolving conflict, but chose anonymous slander instead, we will likely never know for sure. Shame on Lakeland Newspapers for being an irresponsible partner to unsubstantiated and hurtful accusations.

about fire prevention on the front page, especially when a child's life was saved. But what about the parents who left this child home alone in the bathroom when something was cooking in the kitchen? Why didn't that make front page?

Work of fiction

To the jerk who agrees with the Republicans about opening up the arctic wildlife refuge for drilling, you don't know what you're talking about. As for spewing that Bible garbage, keep it to yourself. That's the biggest work of fiction there is.

Same old story

I'm calling from the Woodland school district. When the district asked for money a few years ago, we voted for the increase. Now they're asking again and it seems to be the same old story. Why don't they go and look at the Catholic school in that district? They have 30 children with no aides and their kids are learning. If you want to solve the overcrowding, don't do it with my tax money. Don't vote for the increase, because if the development doesn't stop, and it doesn't look like it will, they will keep on asking.

Good response

I'm from Antioch and I'd like to congratulate the Lake County Sheriff for keeping the patrol boats up through the duck hunting season. I've called twice to complain about hunters doing illegal things and I'm happy to see that my call was responded to immediately. I hope they're here next year as well. I support them 100 percent.

We're so vain

Regardless of what your human written Bible says, man is not the ruler of nature. Humans aren't the only species on earth, we only act like it. Every time people interfere in the name of man, it makes things worse and nature eventually gets even. The abuse of man is taking its toll. The dying from cancer-causing pollutants is caused by multinational companies who are only interested in the bottom line. The eco-system is out of balance and the weather is experiencing more extremes than ever. Remember, a good planet is hard to find.

No to extension

I'm calling from Grayslake in opposition of the east-west extension of Route 53. This is not built to benefit the residents of Grayslake, but will make millionaires of housing developers and bring people to the Pritzker development and to bring truck traffic and employees to Baxter.

System works

I'm calling to complain about the gang-bangers and children running around acting tough because they're in gangs. I wish the cops would do something about them. Also, I'm sick of hearing about O.J. He was tried before a court of law and judged innocent by 12 jurors because of lack of evidence. If you don't like the verdict or the country's judicial system, go to Russia.

cent by 12 jurors because of lack of evidence. If you don't like the verdict or the country's judicial system, go to Russia.

Legalize pot

I'm calling from Lindenhurst to say I think marijuana should be legal. It grows on earth, so God made it for a reason.

Journalism?

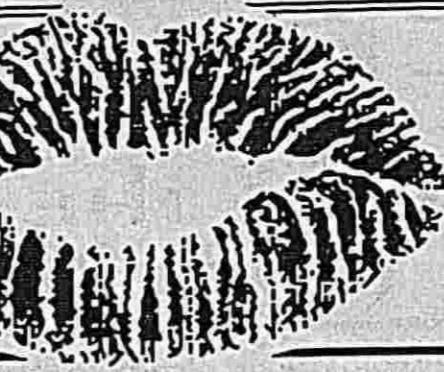

I'm calling from Antioch to say that I don't think the ACHS "Tom Tom" is a very good paper. They took a picture of a guy behind his back when he said he didn't want one taken.

Taught respect

In response to the moron who disagreed with me about the arctic wildlife refuge, my upbringing was just fine. My parents taught me to respect the planet and all its creatures. The next time you're reading the Bible, show me where it says we can trash the planet, pollute the land, water, sea, and air, etc. As for the Republicans being scum, 99 percent of them are. Look up greed next time in the Bible.

Tax dollars at work?

I'm calling from Waukegan and all I can say is Sheriff Grinnell had better get his act together. Having had a son who was incarcerated there, I became aware of things that really upset me, especially where my tax dollars are going. Some officers on the late shift come in intoxicated and sleep all the time. The medical staff is under-

Police mistreatment

On Oct. 14 my 36-month old daughter disappeared from our yard while my husband was cutting grass nearby. Since we are in the Lake County Police jurisdiction, they were notified. While frantically searching my neighborhood I was followed by a Fox Lake police officer, and pulled over. Thinking he had news of my missing baby, I walked to his car. The officer demanded to see my insurance card, driver's license, and registration. After explaining my dilemma and the reason for driving slowly through the neighborhood, I was further detained and even questioned as to whether or not I was concealing a gun! I was greatly annoyed, especially since the first minutes of a child's disappearance are critical to recovery. I was treated like a criminal instead of being allowed to continue searching or even being helped by the officer.

To the white-haired, drunken woman at the Antioch bowling alley on Saturday, Oct. 14, I hope you get some counseling because as far as I'm concerned, anyone who would swear and use obscenities in front of their own 3-year-old son needs professional counseling. You're an unfit mother. Anyone in a bar drinking at 11 o'clock in the morning isn't a real mother. Get yourself some help.

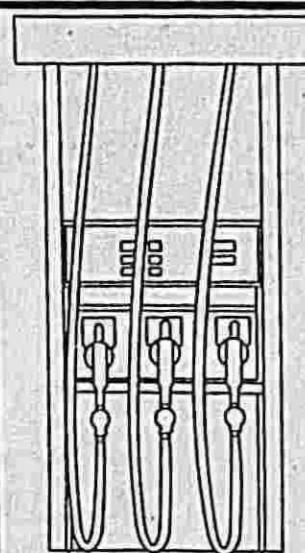

More waste

To the mayor and board of trustees at Round Lake Beach, I guess your open house wasn't such a big success. Not many people showed and taxpayers' money was wasted on food. You didn't even stay open as long as you were supposed to. Congratulations for wasting more of the taxpayers' money.

Back to glass

I live in Antioch and like reading the paper. Why don't we go back to the glass soda bottles? So what if there's a deposit, you get it back when you turn in the glass. It will help with recycling, so get rid of the plastic. Pop won't be nearly as expensive, either.

Carmel relishes second try to upend Joliet Catholic

Carmel High will get a second chance to defeat East Suburban Catholic Conference champion Joliet Catholic.

This time, more than the league title will be at stake. The 7:30 p.m. Oct. 27 game in Joliet is a first-round Class 4A playoff battle.

"The players are really excited about getting another chance to beat the conference champions. We feel we have some unfinished business. Last time we just ran out of time," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

The Carmel offense continued to be in high gear with a 34-15 win over St. Joe Saturday in Westchester. The Corsairs had to adjust to having seven players on offense. The players were suspended due to a fight at the close of a Carmel win over St. Viator.

Joliet Catholic won the ESCC race with a 7-0 mark, 7-2 overall.

Carmel's 7-2 record matched the best record set in 1989. "We scored more points than ever, averaging 30 a game," Fitzgibbons said.

Ruben Rivera, named ESCC offensive player of the year, scored on touchdown runs of 5 and 23 yards. He enters post-season averaging 8.5 yards a carry.

"Last game, Joliet Catholic took Ruben away. This time, we yard TD pass to Jim Koelper and a 12-yarder to senior Tim Roder. Kevin Burris got the offense going with a 3-yard TD plunge.

"It will be fun; we're ready," Nick Yeager, who will be back at quarterback, said.

One of the Corsairs first of many early-season injuries was to running back Jim Hanna. Burris, a transfer from Round Lake, answered the call.

"Burris is a real tough runner," Yeager said.

Yeager has been a quarterback since grammar school when he played for the Warren Packers youth football teams. He would soon have a decision to make: Carmel High or Warren High.

"It was hard in the beginning, but looking back, I am glad I made the decision I did," Yeager, said.

Steve Golebiowski led the defense again against winless St. Joe, with 10 tackles and a sack. He made the switch from outside linebacker to inside linebacker this fall. Dan Potempa also had to make the switch to the different linebacker role.

Defensive back Taree Jones had 5 tackles Saturday and a pair of interceptions of late.

CLC tennis standout nets title at meet

Julia Sapozhnikova overcame facing the eventual champ in the first round to win the consolation title at a national junior college tennis tourney.

The College of Lake County first singles player finished the year 27-1. She lost to Tyler, Texas's eventual champ 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

Then the wins started coming again. She downed a Dade Junior College player 6-2, 6-0 as well as a foe from Colin Junior College in Texas, 6-0, 6-0.

"Julia is an extremely talented player with unlimited potential. She is 17 years old now and she could turn professional in a couple of years. Many people will be interested to sponsor her," CLC Coach Dick Watson said.

Even with a 26-match winning streak to her credit, Watson said the native of Minsk, Belarus, has some areas to work on.

The doubles team competing at the Rolex Inc. sponsored Baco Raton, Florida tournament, Sapozhnikova and Jane Buckman, ended the year 25-2. The Lancers fell to a team from Broward County, Florida then beat a Colin, Texas team 6-2, 6-0 and a team from Young Harris County, Ga. 6-2, 6-3.

The Lancers have qualified for next year's NJCAA spring national meet.

Stevenson High's girls volleyball team settled for a second-place finish at the Lake County Classic, looking for better things in this week's regional.

So for that matter is Mundelein, which slipped to under .500 with a fourth-place finish. Libertyville, meanwhile, rebounded from a three-game loss to Warren High to claim fifth place.

Lake Forest dominated the title match as the Scouts won 15-5, 15-11 at Mundelein. This was the first tourney title in the four-year tournament for the Scouts.

"They rose to the challenge. Stevenson is an excellent team. Our serves made the difference. We were able to take Stevenson out of its offense," Lake Forest Coach Chris Eiserman said.

The match featured LF standout Katie Eiserman passing up Lyndsey Trudell on the school's all-time leader in kills.

"I was real disappointed in the way we lost. We played so poorly and fell apart. They are a good team, but we fell apart," Stevenson Coach Leanne Ulmer said.

Tauja Catchings led the Patriots into the final with 13 kills against Warren in a 15-12, 15-8 win but that was reduced to 7 in the title match. Vicki Gofman was the next highest in kills against the Scouts with 2, as did Liz Andrechuk and Carolyn Nugent.

Lindsey Sultan had 12 assists as she connected on all 43 tries.

Catchings provided the turning point against Warren as she had kills to close out game one after a 12-11 Warren lead. An 11-0 lead in the second game allowed the Pats to put it in cruise control.

Stevenson brings a 29-5-1 record to the Lake Zurich regional. Finals are set for Thursday.

Mundelein settled for fourth after a three-game loss to Warren. Warren led 9-0 in the first game, but Mundelein rallied behind Heather Stein's serves for a 11-5 deficit. Warren hung on for a 15-11 win, but Mundelein took game two 15-10. Warren dominated game three 15-3.

The highlights for MHS (15-16) Saturday came in the first semi-final game. They downed Lake Forest 15-13, but lost 15-2, 15-4.

Sue Logan had 30 digs and Jenny Kopstein 25 and Stein 26 in pacing the defense. Logan had an equally strong tourney in offense, with 37 kills while Kopstein had 30 kills.

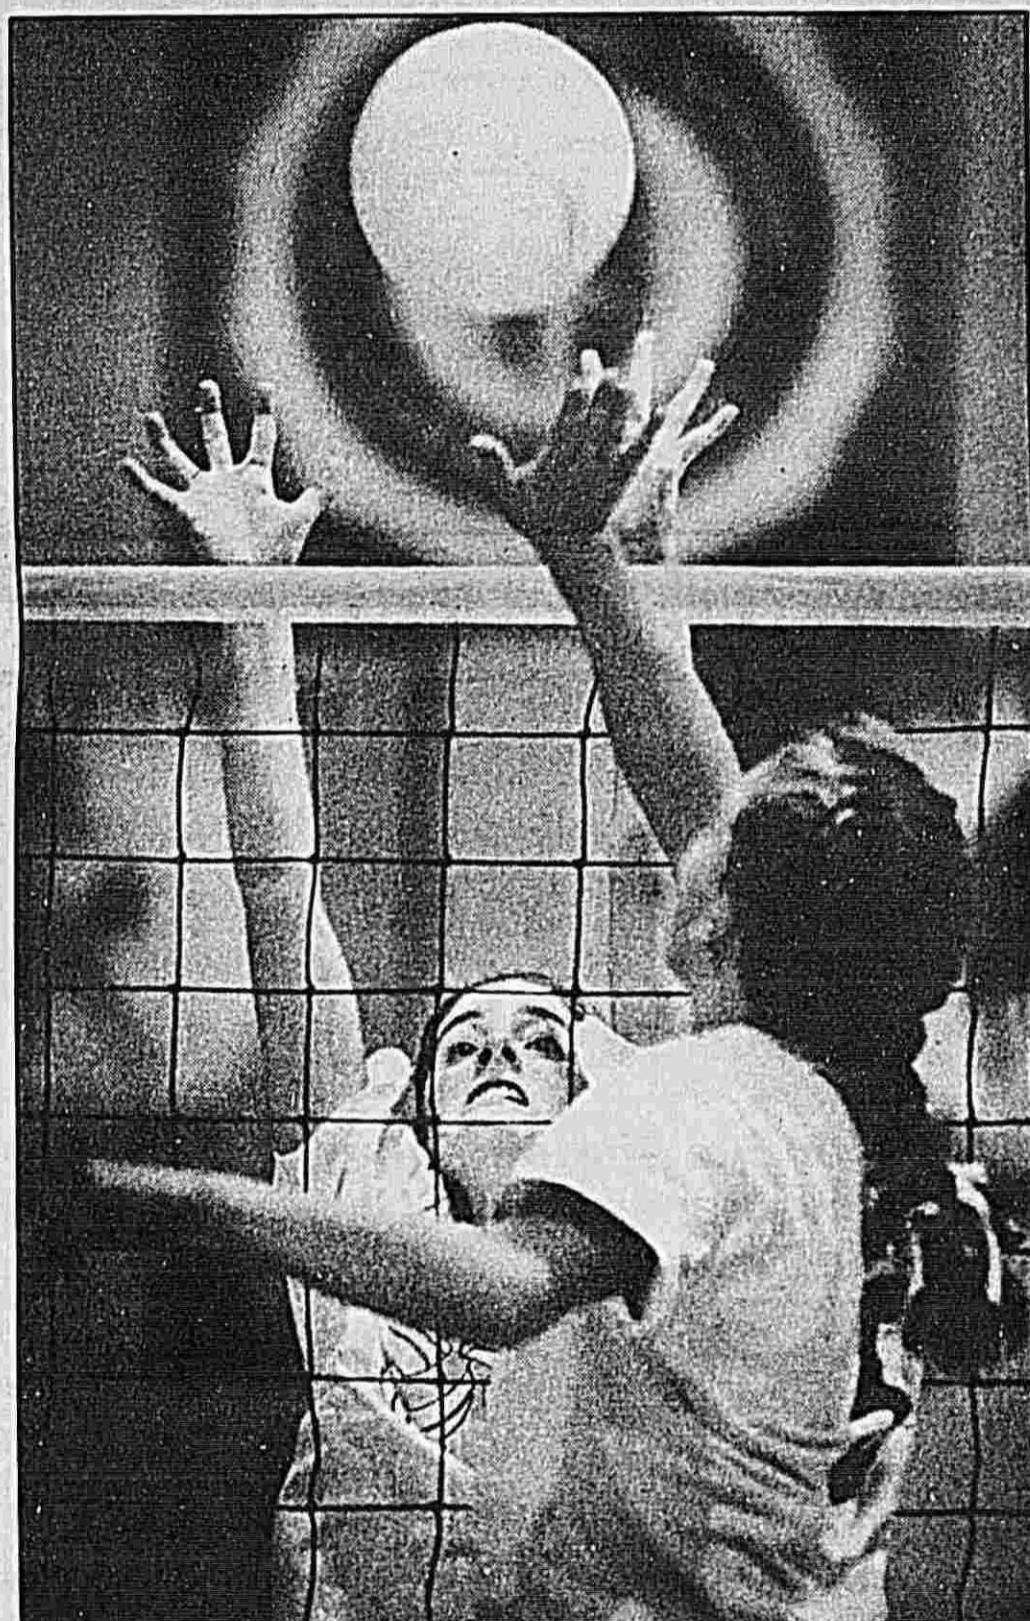

"We have to figure out what causes our mental lapses and avoid it," MHS Coach Dan Szymkowiak said.

LHS enters its regional tourney with a 25-10 mark. A loss to Warren 16-14, 13-15, 13-15 spoiled the first day. But LHS battled back with a 15-3, 15-11 win over Antioch for fifth place.

Clemente Dougherty was 49-of-59 serving for 41 points and 9 aces. Bridget Fahrner had 39 points on 55-of-56 with 7 aces and Amanda Marquardt was 50-of-51 with 28 points and 3 aces.

Power lifters make mark at state championships

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

A team of Lake County power lifters took second at the 12th annual Illinois Fall Bench Press Championships.

Dubbing itself the "Power Elite Bench Team," the lifters include: LeRoy Chapman of Round Lake Beach; Bill Henning of Round Lake Beach; Brandon "R" of Round Lake Beach; and Karen Koe of Fox Lake. Koe did not compete because of injury.

"We took second with three guys," Chapman said. "The team that beat us had 10 guys."

Chapman lifted 470 pounds in the 220-pound division. In June, Chapman set the national record with a 446 lift, only to be out-bench with a 460-pound press.

"I re-captured the title with my latest lift. That ranks me 60th in the nation," Chapman said. The national ranking also includes those who use steroids. As a member of the Natural Athletes Strength Association, Chapman is drug-free.

Henning also improved his American-record mark with a lift of 355 pounds in the 148-pound category. Henning's original record-setting mark was 347, set in August.

"That was an awesome bench, just awesome," Chapman said of his teammate. Henning is ranked 40th overall in the country.

in the 181-pound category.

"He set a state record, and he's not even ranked nationally. That's awesome," Chapman said.

Koe has set a state record in the women's division for 130 pounders. Her record lift was 132 pounds.

"We all moved up in the rankings on the top 100 list," Chapman said. "The end goal is to be good enough to tryout for the Olympics, and we're training to do that."

The national trials for the Olympics in power lifting is in January in Kansas City. Before the Olympic trials, the "Power Elite Bench Team" will be putting on a lifting exhibition as part of the Strong Athletes Against Steroids in Park Ridge Dec. 3.

Strong field set for Brunswick Challenge

More than 250 of the best bowlers from Illinois and the midwest are slated to compete Oct. 28 and 29 when the Brunswick World Team Challenge series makes its annual stop in the Chicago area at Hawthorn Lanes in Vernon Hills.

The event is the fifth of 22 stops on the BWTC Open Division trail this season. Each Open Division event winner earns expense-paid trips to next summer's projected $150,000 Grand Championships where they will be joined by a host of foreign entrants.

The BWTC is produced and conducted by the American Bowling Congress and aired by the Prime SportsChannel network. It features regular team bowling and the Baker System, which requires each member of a five-player team to bowl two frames in one game.

Included in the field are Pat Stefanik, Mike Firzak, Bob Santini and Mike Faliero from the team that won the 1993 National Team Challenge Grand Championship.

Also slated to compete are ABC Hall of Famers Steve Fehr and Mike Berlin. Fehr will be part of the Turbo 2-N-1 Grips squad that finished second in the 1995 BWTC Grand Championships.

TEAM USA will be represented by 1996 members Chris Barnes and David Berman and former members Sam Lantto, John Eiss, Todd Savoy, Vince Biondo, Steve Kloempken, Kevin Doane and Dan Nadeau.

Among the top Illinois squads are 1995 Grand Championship entrant J.C.'s Auto Body of Joliet plus two Hawthorn Lanes quintets and Joliet's Town & Country Lanes.

Action begins at 8 a.m. Oct. 28. Each team rolls six regular format qualifying games that day with the top 10 teams advancing to Baker Scoring action at 9 a.m. Oct. 29.

The top three then qualify for the stepladder finals which will be taped at about 3 p.m. that afternoon for later showing on Prime SportsChannel. Admission is free.

Carmel, Mundelein and Stevenson all gained regional final bids Thursday by winning regional openers Tuesday.

Carmel downed Wauconda 15-6, 15-1 at Lake Zurich while Mundelein topped Lake Zurich 15-4, 15-4. Stevenson gained the final with a 15-2, 15-7 win over Deerfield.

"I was pleased with our focus, but we had a little trouble getting started," Carmel Coach Jo Gerardi said.

Carmel had a balanced attack against the overmatched Bulldogs. Sarah Workman had 7 kills and Carrie Gmeiner had 4. Angie Demuth had a trio of kills.

"We had a pretty good night at the net," Gerardi said.

Gina Langer directed the offense as the senior setter.

Mundelein moved on with the win over Lake Zurich (8-21).

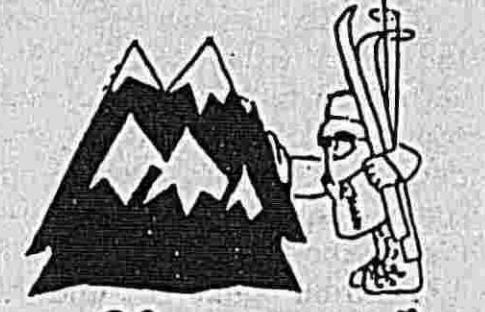

The Mustangs beat Carmel in a three-game match earlier, moving back to .500 at 16-16.

"We need to play balanced and consistent. It was a very close, intense match last time," Gerardi said.

Tauja Catchings led the way with 18-of-19 serving and 17 kills.

Blaze, Dynamos continue to win

Flames

The Libertyville Flames Under 13 girls traveling soccer team posted a 1-0 shutout victory over the Northwest United Shockers of Crystal Lake.

The Flames' defense posted their third shutout in six regular season games and their eighth shutout overall for the year.

The defense was led by superstars Jennifer Ostroga, Emily Hannigan, Brynne Towner, Erin Petron, Courtney Dydo and goalkeeper Kristine Hall.

The Flames gained the only goal they needed for victory midway through the first half. Sweeper Brynne Towner booted the ball downfield to forward Lindsay Kotlick who led Vicki Siwak with a pass down the right wing. Speedster Siwak then drilled home a 15-yard blast to give the Flames a picture perfect 1-0 goal.

Dynamos

The Libertyville Dynamos boys Under 12 traveling soccer team registered another win with a 2-1 victory over Park Ridge Orange.

The Dynamos took charge in the second half and played according to their game plan. Eventually, the Dynamos wore down Park Ridge's defense and scored. Steven Brooks scored both of the Dynamos' goals with assists from Matt Dunk and Joel Gruber.

On defense, Zachary Francis and Bradley Purtell played outstanding games and Drew Armer did an exceptional job in the midfield. Playing his best game of the season, goalie John Dwan made numerous saves and preserved the win for the Dynamos.

Blaze

The Libertyville Blaze Under 13 girls traveling soccer team defeated the Buffalo Grove Lynx 2-1 and the Winnetka Trevians 4-1 in their last two outings.

Playing in Buffalo Grove, the Blaze took control of the field and were the first to score when forward Sabrina Dawson found a piece of open net early in the game. Midfielder Arin Yarc provided the insurance goal when she lofted the ball beyond the

Hosting the Winnetka Trevians, the Blaze appeared to come out flat.

As they settled into their game, Libertyville took control of the field and never gave it up. Lindsay Moore provided the first goal.

Playing at forward, Nikki Gaebler was able to come up with two. The first came when Cayla Goodnature set her up with a perfectly placed chip shot and the second when the Winnetka goalie mishandled the ball.

Shannon Devine put the game beyond the Trevian's reach when she connected on a set up by Kimmi Pawlowski.

Kara Stefanik and Andrea Smestad provided support on offense while sweeper Linsey Harwood together with K.C. Coninx and Kim Hogan controlled the field defensively.

Comets

The Libertyville Comets Under 10 team extended their shutout streak to three in a row with a 2-0 win over the Rockford Hononegah.

Early in the second half, Carolyn Zeffery lofted a corner kick to Jessica Lapins whose blocked shot was rebounded by Ellie Nash for the first goal of the game. Ten minutes later, Zeffery scored a goal of her own, off of a cross from Lapins.

The Comets kept up the pressure in the second half with 12 shots on goal by Megan Lucke, Brianna Morgan, Jessica Rhodes, Jeanine Cavicchia and Brittany Tormeon. The shutout was shared by Jeanine Cavicchia and Cristy Martinez.

The win streak came to an end in Aurora last Sunday, when the Wheatland Shooting Stars defeated the Comets 3-0.

Lasers

The Libertyville Lasers Under 12 girls soccer team improved to 4-3 on the season with a 2-1 win over the Palatine Celtics. After giving up a goal to the Celtics, the Lasers came storming back. Forwards Jessica Reblin, Lauren Treu and Kristin Kuceyeski controlled the offensive zone.

Striker Joyce Kleinheinz

nailed a penalty kick over a Celtic wall and tucked it neatly into the upper left corner of the goal.

It didn't take long for the Lasers to gain control. Kleinheinz connected on a second penalty kick early in the second half to put the Lasers ahead for good.

Late in the game, the Celtics kept up a steady barrage against the Lasers defense. Tess Dicello, Lindsay Morgan, and goalie Brandi Simon turned them back each time.

Strikers

The Libertyville Strikers Under 9 girls soccer team posted a win and a tie over the weekend, playing a tough Palatine team two days in a row.

Libertyville traveled to Palatine and won a hard fought game 2-1. Darcey Loeb and Stephanie Zare each scored a goal and Jamie Freese added an assist.

Michelle Keefer and Ashley Mack turned in good defensive performances and Lauren DeGiralamo played well in goal.

When Libertyville hosted Palatine, the evenly matched teams ended with a 2-2 tie. Loeb and Freese scored for the Strikers. Others turning in key performances were Anne Lubicky, Sara Delli Paoli, and Keri Keehn.

Hornets

The Libertyville Hornets girls Under 9 traveling team lost a hard-fought 1-0 battle against Buffalo Grove.

Despite excellent passing and midfield play on the part of the Hornets, strong defense by the Buffalo Grove team kept the Hornets from scoring during the first half.

A breakaway by Hornet Anna Rice near the end of the second half nearly tied the score, but a last ditch defensive move by Buffalo Grove kept her from scoring.

Offensive standouts for the Hornets were Emma Kaplan, Katie Ruff, and Nicole DeFrancisco. Goalie Melissa Schmidt, Brianne Weyers, and Andrea Behringer were the Hornets' defensive standouts.

CLC spikers meet goal; ready for sectional next

College of Lake County women's volleyball team sought a four-place finish at the Skyway Conference meet.

That would qualify the Lancers for the tournament with N4C league foes as the top four teams collided Oct. 26.

CLC (13-28-1 overall) achieved just that, and will use the challenge matches to prepare for the Oct. 28 sectional test.

"I am happy with fourth place. I am happy we did not go down from last year's finish," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.
